Heavy absenteeism at treatment plant

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Financially-strained Granite Cityans are getting less service than they deserve for their governmental dollars due to an extreme volume of absenteeism at the city's regional wastewater primary-secondary treatment plant, several aldermen believe.

Most vocal of the critics is Alderman Warren Deatur, who alleges that numerous absences go unpenalized and that some even go unrecorded, due to the contends—cards being punched in time clocks by some workers for others.

The staff is either unusually sickly and injury-prone, or some employees are taking advantage of sick leave time by failing to report on occasions when they are capable of performing their duties. Deatur is convinced.

The City Council last week agreed to reduce the treatment plant staff from 30 (31 two years ago) to 26, rather than slashing it to 24. In return, Operating Engineers agreed to one-man staffing instead of two men on weekend and holiday shifts; and all overtime and compensatory time decisions will be made by the plant superintendent.

In 1979, the staff was absent 332 days, consisting of 251 sick leave days and 81 other days. (Sick leave—30 days hospitalization and convalescence, 22 days documented as involving verified sickness, and 199 days undocumented.) Other days—68 days absent because of on-duty injuries that can lead to workmen's compensation payments, 13 days due to deaths in families, and no days of absence for jury duty.)

For 1980, absence statistics total 448, including 373 sick leave days and 75

other days. (Sick leave—131 hospital and convalescence, 97 documented sickness, and 145 days undocumented.) Other days—46 days from being injured while on duty, nine days due to deaths in families, and 21 days of jury duty.)

In 1981, through Aug. 12, the staff was absent 353 days, consisting of 271 sick leave days and 114 other days. (Sick leave—97 hospital and convalescence, 73 documented, and 101 days undocumented.) Other days—39 from on-duty injuries, 14 because of deaths in families, and 11 days due to serving on juries.)

Everyone on the staff has been absent at least one day so far this year. This was also the case last year.

In 1979, one of the employees was on the job every day he was scheduled.

The dozen individuals with the largest number of days of absence since January 1979 were not present on an aggregate of 818 days—an average of 68 days of absence by each of the 12 during the times they were scheduled to work in the two years and seven and a half months.

Employee A was absent 100 days—87, 93 and 40 in 1979-80-81.

B was not at work on 94 workdays—10, 21 and 63, in the same order.

Employee C was gone 91 days—18, 58 and 15. D was absent 87 days—four, 19 and 64. E, 72 days—16, 44 and 12.

F was absent 64 days—44, nine and 11. G, 59 days—11, 38 and 10. H, 58 days—19, 23 and 16. Employee I was absent 50 days—three, 28 and 19.

J did not report on 49 workdays—33, 12 and four. K, 48 days—17, 22 and nine.

And, rounding up the dozen, Employee L was absent 46 days—14 two years ago, 21 last year and 11 days so far this year.

Of the weekday employees who had Saturdays and Sundays as their normal days away from work in 1979, one who missed a total of nine days of sick leave was gone three Fridays, his most frequent day of absence.

Ampther who was off 18 days due to illness that year was absent five Thursdays and six Fridays. A worker's 17 missed days included six Mondays and five Fridays. Another man's 14 absent days included five Mondays and three Fridays; one's eight missed days included four Fridays.

Also in 1979, a worker who was normally off each Thursday and Friday was absent 21 other days on account of sickness, including six Wednesdays, two Saturdays and three Sundays. An employee whose days off were Monday and Tuesday was away 12 sick days, including five Wednesdays.

In 1980, those on a Monday-to-Friday schedule at the treatment plant included a man absent 38 days because of illness, of which 10 were Fridays and seven were Mondays. One ill for 52 days was off 12 Fridays and eight Mondays that year.

An employee's seven missed days due to sickness included four Fridays. Another's nine days included three Fridays. One's six days included two Fridays; a man's 21 missed days, four Fridays and six Mondays; another's three days, two Fridays; and a worker's six days, three Fridays.

Also in 1980, a Wednesday-through-Sunday employee missed 10 workdays because of sickness, including three Sundays. A man on an identical shift

GC teachers reject offer; their absence delays school

BULLETIN

With only about 25 of 590 teachers attending today's teacher institute, Granite City School Supt. B. J. Davis cancelled tomorrow's classes for students and rescheduled the initial half-day class session for Wednesday.

Through announcements on Radio Stations KSD, KMOX, WGN and KXOK, the school district will try to give parents and students at least 24 hours' notice of cancellations and will make such decisions on a day-by-day basis, based on the availability or lack of availability of the staff.

Teachers say they are willing to negotiate "day or night," and Supt. Davis said the district today will suggest negotiating this afternoon.

There will be no classes for Granite City students tomorrow, the district decided today after most teachers failed to attend a scheduled "institute day" this morning.

The 1981-82 term was to have begun at 9 a.m. today at Granite City High School North with faculty orientation meetings, followed by pupils reporting on Tuesday, but teachers last night rejected the most recent salary raise proposal.

Both sides withheld details of their proposals when making statements outside the bargaining room.

The teachers' today avoided describing their action as a strike. The decision to report or not is a matter of individual choice, President Shirley Stoll said this morning.

She added that as an individual she will not work in the absence of a settlement, but that the teachers' negotiating team remains ready to continue the bargaining at any time. She heads Local 743 of the American Federation of Teachers, and Russell Chappell is chairman of its salary and policy committee.

The teachers' absence also will affect other employee groups whose negotiations have been in progress—secretaries, cooks and custodians.

Previous agreements expired with the end of the 1980-81 fiscal year June 30. Teachers' negotiators held a series of talks last week with a team of administrators and school board members in an effort to develop a new agreement covering a period of one or more years. Progress was made, but not enough to avert the work stoppage.

Bargaining talks on economic issues took place Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The Board of Education held an executive session Friday evening, and Federation members conferred Saturday afternoon.

Additional negotiations took place later Saturday afternoon and on Sunday from about 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Last night, members of Local 743 reviewed the most recent proposal from the school district and decided against accepting it. Most of those present at the Granite City Township Building then indicated they were unwilling to report for work this week.

Through elimination of some teaching positions, the faculty is expected to total about 590 this fall. Pres. Stoll said "nearly 600" were present at last night's meeting, which she said lasted about an hour and a half.

Many non-tenure teachers are reporting to work to avoid legal problems related to their employment, faculty members said today.

Tenure instructors also lack full legal right to withhold their services but traditionally have been able to avoid firing by any Illinois school districts. A new state law gives partial sanction to collective bargaining by school employees.

County acts to implement auditor's recommendations

By ED GURNEY

The Madison County board has established a committee to help implement changes in county fiscal policies that were recommended by an auditing firm.

The board also asked officeholders to report by next month on what they're doing to implement the changes.

The board's action was in response to a review conducted by Price-Waterhouse & Co. The firm said the county is violating several state laws, doesn't have enough checks and balances on its employees and doesn't use its computer enough.

The firm also said the county lost revenues because it didn't make short-term investments with some of the $11.7 million in cash collections it had on hand last Nov. 30.

A resolution approved last week by the board requires an operations committee to implement the recommendations of audit recommendations be composed of elected and appointed officials. The operations committee is to report to and work with the finance committee of the county board.

Bill Little of Alton, chairman of the finance committee, stated in a memo that Price-Waterhouse's proposal is the most extensive it has prepared in the three years the firm has audited the county.

Harold Straka of Price-Waterhouse said some of the recommendations have been to collections, too. Part of the problem is that there has been no specific effort to work on implementation, he said.

Straka said the county's important point made in the report concerns needed controls over collections and disbursements of bail, fines and fees in the circuit clerk's office. The report stated the same people in Circuit Clerk Willard "Butch" Portell's office are recieving and disbursing funds.

Board member Jack Frankson of Alhambra successfully amended the resolution to ask officeholders to report to the county board next month.

Frankson said the county board is getting "a black eye" in the newspapers because of the criticisms in the auditor's report. The county board actually has little control over officeholders after their budgets are approved, he said. Frankson said budgets should be cut if officeholders don't comply with the recommendations.

State says raw sewage dumped

"It's impossible," is how Walter "Shang" Greathouse, president of the Metro-East Sanitary District, described the situation as the state attempts to push the cash-starved sanitary district to repair its Cahokia treatment plant—a move which could lead to an increase in the treatment fee paid by homeowners and businesses served by the sanitary district's sewer treatment plants.

English visitor finds things 'cheap'

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Michelle Williams from Burton-on-Trent in the British Midlands stands on the threshold of an exciting career as a fashion buyer.

But before she steps through the portal into a new lifestyle, the young woman is enjoying a two month holiday in the United States and "loves it here."

"Everything is much cheaper (inexpensive) here compared to what the same things cost in England," she commented last week.

Gasoline is almost $4 a gallon in Britain so, naturally, it seems to the young Englishwoman the cost of gas in the United States is very inexpensive.

Inflation has hit Britain pretty hard, she said, and the cost of all consumer items, including clothes, furniture, food and real estate, has increased substantially in the past few years.

Michelle finds a big difference in the "general attitude of the people here."

"People are a lot more casual here, more relaxed."

"After they finish work, they seem to go out more and to enjoy themselves more than they do at home. And, of course, there is more entertainment in general," she observed.

Michelle is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Grace) Withers of Granite City, who own and operate Withers Recreational Vehicles on Highway 162.

Mrs. Grace Withers is a cousin of Michelle's father, David Lewis.

Great Blue Heron found dead; gets spot in SIUE museum

A great blue heron, found dead on a church lawn in Collinsville, will get a new lease on life in the ornithology classroom museum in the biology department at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The majestic, four-foot water bird, named for its distinctive, slate blue plumage, will be preserved in a scientific mount and used for classroom studies, according to Harold Broadbooks, SIUE biology professor who accepted the gift.

"It is such a beautiful bird, it should be somewhere where people can see it," said Joan Botkin, the Caseyville woman who discovered the heron. She found it with its long, pointed bill half buried in the grass of the First Methodist Church, just half a block from Main Street.

"All I could see was the grey and apricot (colors) tinged on it," she said. Mrs. Botkin, who said she is always out doing something, took the bird home and began the search to identify it. A local taxidermist and a worn copy of a field guide book of birds proved to be the most helpful. The Broadbooks confirmed her choice of a great blue heron.

Mrs. Botkin also discovered the bird had been broken wing, a possible cause of its death. "It was broken severely," twisted backward almost in a complete circle," said Les Nico, an SIUE graduate student who examined the heron. He speculated the bird may have run into a power or telephone line and clipped the wing. The bird's wing span can reach five feet.

Because of its size, Nico said most people mistakenly think the bird is a crane. The difference is the blue heron flies with its neck tucked into an S-shape, he said. The crane flies with a straight neck.

Judging from the extra down around the tail feathers, Broadbooks said the bird was probably a young adult that strayed from a common feeding area around Horseshoe Lake or Pontoon Beach near Granite City. The birds typically live in communities and build stick nests high in the trees over water, feeding mainly on fish and frogs. Broadbooks said he also visited some of the blue heron's local nesting sites on islands near Grafton.

Although the birds are relatively common, most people never see one unless they go looking, Nico said. The great blue heron, along with other members of the egret family, is protected under the Federal Migratory Bird Treaty and may not be shot or taken for any reason without special permit, said Dave Harper, district wildlife biologist of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Nico said they are not on the endangered list but were once highly prized for the feathers, which were later used on hats. During the breeding season, the little bird sports a distinctive crest feather that was also used commercially.

The bird will be added to the University's natural history collection that included samples of the little blue heron, cattle egret, common egret, green heron, and black crowned night heron in the egret family.

Long Lake firemen host meet to discuss equipment, procedure

Anyone driving up to the Long Lake Fire Station last week may have been met with more "para-medics, EMTs and other professional emergency responders than they expected."

The occasion was an informal communication session between the officers of Granite City's Ambulance Service and members of Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

Twelve members of the ambulance service, including Chief Don Parente and three shift commanders, were the guests of Long Lake for breakfast and business.

The purpose of the gathering was to better understand the operating procedures of each department while getting to know the people who help the public in times of emergency. Many times these men are called upon to work closely together, sometimes in vital union in the confines of a speeding ambulance.

Discussions ranged from past experiences to future plans. When the subject of new equipment was brought up, Long Lake's Assistant Chief of Rescue Dave Johnson produced one of the newest pieces of equipment in the rescue field. Called a Kendrick Extracorporeal device, KEDs for short, the unit was recently donated to Long Lake by the Pontoon Beach Lions Club. Since the unit is one of the first in the area, and is used on anyone with a back injury, falls, car wrecks, etc., the proper operating procedures were explained, should Granite City wish to use it.

Also discussed was a disaster plan to be developed and implemented in the event of a major catastrophe in the area.

Twelve members of Long Lake and seven juniors hosted the event.

Both organizations left with a greater respect for knowledge and education of the other.

ENTER LAW OFFICE

A burglar entered the law office of William Schooley, 2030 Edison Ave., through a basement window and stole a dictating machine, valued at $400, and a wooden base clock lamp, worth $50, it was reported at 8:05 a.m. Wednesday. Several desks, a file cabinet and two metal boxes had been pried open by the thief.

Tax break for pensions

A little discussed provision in the Economic Recovery Tax Act of 1981 signed by President Reagan is expected to be a boon to the thousands of employees now in qualified pension plans.

People covered by company retirement plans, starting Jan. 1, 1982, will be able to start deferring retirement savings account of up to $2,000 or up to $4,000 for a working married couple.

"We think it will be just as important as the All-Savers' Act in our future ability to attract savings," says Warren E. Bachert of Home Savings, Aurora, first vice president of the statewide Illinois Savings and Loan League.

"It appears to be a boon to the savings and loan business. It is our intention to pursue this vigorously," says George Briody, Jr., president of the Illinois League and agent of Fairfield Savings, Norridge. The new type of retirement accounts are expected to attract savings needed for home mortgages.

The IRA was previously reserved for people not covered by a company pension plan. The new law is expected to double the number of persons eligible for the tax break. The previous contribution limit was $1,500 and taxes on the earnings were deferred until withdrawn after age 59 1/2.

IRAs are expected to gain importance as workers plan for their own retirement income to supplement Social Security. The accounts are expected to earn higher-than-passbook rates.

Creating an IRA at a savings and loan association is simple. An agreement is signed and savings deposited, either in a lump sum or installments before the income tax form is filed. The savings association will send the saver a form for use in filing their income tax return.

Savers should exercise caution in deciding how much money to invest for their retirement. However, Briody says, a saver decides to withdraw his savings before he turns 59 1/2 or is disabled, the savings association may, for premature withdrawal of certificate funds, charge a penalty.

In addition, the Internal Revenue Service would impose a penalty of 10 percent of the amount withdrawn. The money taken out of the account would have to be declared as income for that taxable year.

RELEASED ON BOND

Donald L. Mangiaracino, 34, of 1244 Oriole St., Venice, charged last week with alleged battery, posted $500 bail that afternoon and is to appear later for a hearing. At home in the 2900 block of Dogwood Drive Saturday evening, Miss Lisa Sandoz, 1011 Washington Ave., Madison, was struck about the left eye and back and was bitten on the nose and hip.

History of 'artificial' blood

By PROF. F. HENRY FIRSCHING
Stue School of Science & Technology

Medical patients have a need for a quick source of blood. The usual blood transfusions currently in use have a variety of difficulties, such as: getting people to donate blood, storing the blood, calibrating it by blood type and then matching it with the recipient, occasionally transferring disease in the donated blood, and refusing blood transfusions by religious groups. However, artificial blood gets by most of these difficulties.

About 20 years ago, the first developments in artificial blood took place. Fluorocarbon compounds were prepared and were found to dissolve gases very readily, including oxygen and carbon dioxide. These fluorocarbon compounds are similar to the common hydrocarbons that are present in gasoline, kerosene and motor oil.

The chief difference is that all the hydrogen atoms have been replaced with fluorine atoms. The only routine use of fluorocarbons is the slippery coating of teflon in frypans and baking pans. Teflon is a fluorocarbon. It is inert to foodstuffs even at the high temperatures used in cooking and baking. Liquid fluorocarbons are also inert and do not react chemically with any component of the living body. This chemical inertness and the ability to dissolve oxygen and carbon dioxide make fluorocarbons potentially useful as a substitute blood.

One of the chief functions of blood is to transport gases to and from the lungs. The hemoglobin of our blood carries the oxygen from our lungs to all the living cells of our body. The hemoglobin then transports the carbon dioxide from the cells back to the lungs. Fluorocarbons can substitute for blood in this critical exchange.

Some of the first experiments involved immersing rats in a fluorocarbon liquid that contained dissolved oxygen. The rats survived for indefinitely long periods of time, even though totally submerged in this oxygenated liquid. The next step was to replace all of the blood of laboratory rats with fluorocarbon liquid that contained an emulsifying agent. Remarkably, the rats were able to function normally. With the passage of time, the blood of the rats was slowly regenerated as the fluorocarbon liquid dissipated from their bodies in their breathing and waste products. The rats gradually returned to normal blood circulation with no apparent harmful effects. In fact, these rats were studied for their entire life span, which is considerably shorter than humans, and no difficulties were detected.

Monkeys were next on the agenda. About 90 percent of their blood was replaced with a fluorocarbon emulsion, with no harmful effects. The obvious next experimental subject was human beings. But in the USA this type of experiment is almost impossible to perform. However, in Japan the legal situation is quite different and over two hundred persons have already received artificial blood.

After the successful use of artificial blood in Japan, it became possible to administer it here in the USA for emergency cases. So far about 15 people, all Jehovah's Witnesses members, have received artificial blood transfusions. All 15 had refused human blood for religious reasons and no doubt would have died without the use of the blood substitute.

But before artificial blood can be put into widespread use, the long term effects must be determined. The material is so new that any conclusions about the long term effects are not possible. So far, the human applications have not produced any harmful effects.

There are a host of possible future applications for substitute blood. Donated body organs are maintained in excellent condition using oxygenated fluorocarbons and if used in this way would greatly increase the time between the removal of the donor an implantation in the recipient. Artificial blood could aid carbon monoxide poisoning victims. Carbon monoxide is bound tenaciously to hemoglobin, effectively blocking the transport of oxygen and carbon dioxide. Placing the victim in an oxygen tent is not too effective. But artificial blood would quickly bring the needed oxygen to the critical areas.

In some medical situations, the blood vessels constrict so badly that even blood platelets cannot pass through small capillaries. Yet, the tiny droplets of fluorocarbon emulsion can pass readily through the constricted blood vessels. In strokes or heart attacks, artificial blood may be able to pass through partially blocked blood vessels thus limiting the damage caused by lack of oxygen. These last two applications makes use of the ability of liquid fluorocarbons to do something that the normal blood cannot do. Artificial blood seems to have a promising future in combating human health problems.

NABBED FOR TAKING, REPAINTING, BICYCLE

Dividends to cut insurance cost

A new dividend scale for Prudential Insurance Company individual life insurance policies, which will serve to reduce insurance costs to an all-time low, has been announced by Company President David J. Sherwood.

"The increase in dividends paid on Prudential policies will reduce the cost of insurance to enforce as well as new policyholders," Sherwood said.

"The major reasons behind the company's decision to liberalize the dividend structure are the outstanding performance of Prudential's investments and the continuing improvement in mortality experience. As a result, when the cost of just about everything is going up, the cost of Prudential life insurance is going down."

Because Prudential is a mutual insurance company, Prudential's policyholders share the company's earnings through the payment of dividends. Dividends paid out in 1981 under the old scale are expected to amount to more than $1.5 billion dollars. Based on the new scale, they will be increased by approximately 20 percent. The dividend revisions will take effect Jan. 1, 1982. Depending on the dividend option chosen, the new scale can mean a dramatic increase in the amount of the death benefit, cash value or dividend, or a lower premium cash outlay.

O. In sixteen, and have just started working on a part time job. Should I open a checking account even though I'm not making a lot of money?

A. It's really never too early to begin to learn and use concepts of good personal financial management and a checking account is a good place to begin. Not only will you have a much better record of your income and expenditures, but you'll also have the responsibility of balancing your account. You'll find checks are the safest kind of money: It's as available as your checkbook, and if your checkbook is stolen, your money can still be protected. Most importantly, instead of saying "Where did all my money go?" at the end of the month, with a checking account you'll know what each check was written for and, possibly, discover that it's never too early to begin and maintain a personal budget, either.

Housing authority revises policy

Under revised policies adopted by the Madison County Housing Authority, potential tenants in housing units will be urged to live in units where their race is not predominant.

The new policy was adopted in a meeting Thursday in an effort to satisfy federal officials in providing that new applicants for transfer be offered tenancy in units where their race is not predominant.

As an example, black applicants will be offered housing in predominantly white Northgate Homes in Collinsville and white applicants will be offered housing in predominantly black units in Madison, Venice and Alton.

The Housing and Urban Development Agency has threatened to end federal assistance to the authority because it has discriminated in allocating housing units.

The authority is seeking approval of HUD for the new policies.

Director Knight greets local '10-4' Explorers

Secret Service Director H. Stuart Knight welcomed Explorers from Post 10-4, sponsored by Madison Police Unit 110, at the National Law Enforcement Explorer Conference.

Knight and Assistant to the Director John W. Warner took time during the busy schedule to visit with Madison Police Officer William Weidner, post adviser, and Terry Toth, associate adviser to 10-4.

Explorer Post 10-4 became acquainted with Knight and Warner when the post visited Washington in 1979 and again in 1980.

The post attended the 1979 conference headed by Knight.

The local group returned home during the weekend from the conference held at Ohio State University.

Knight praised the young people attending, calling them "a fine group of young Americans," and said that the well-trained law enforcement personnel need to fight crime will come from groups like the Law Enforcement Explorers, such as Post 10-4 members.

Special emblems were given to outstanding participants who participated in each program segment during the week.

All members of Post 10-4 earned the official silver and scarlet patch. The Explorers had to turn in a score card with 14 stickers on from each training session.

The Columbus conference featured seminars and team competition conducted by the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA), Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms; the U.S. Secret Service; and more than 30 additional professional law enforcement and local police organizations.

The police-oriented competition included domestic crisis intervention, arrest and search techniques, crime prevention, accident investigation, traffic stop and crime scene search.

Six United States "top cops" looked at the future of law enforcement and found it secure.

Speaking in a panel discussion at the conference they addressed the topic, "Law Enforcement in the Year 2000."

The panelists included FBI Director William H. Webster, San Diego Sheriff John Duffy, Maj. General Paul Timmerberg, commander of Army investigations; Dallas, Texas, Chief of Police Glen D. King, and Director Knight.

Moderator for the panel was Peter B. Bensinger, former DEA administrator, who also formerly was the head of the Illinois Department of Corrections.

FBI Director Webster emphasized that in spite of all technological advances to be expected in future years, such as blood printing, law enforcement will remain a personal venture.

"People commit crimes and people solve them," he said. But he added that crime and law enforcement are economic ventures as well, and "we will always be where the money is because that is where the criminals are, its us against them."

Chief King said that young Law Enforcement Explorers will enter the field with more education and greater advantage than present officers. He reflected that only 20 years ago, few entered team with more than a high school diploma.

King also noted that criminals have become increasingly sophisticated, and summed up that law enforcement will become a contest of wits.

Director Knight began his remarks by saying that "You folks are going to be better than I am."

He said that technological methods for crime detection presently available were unheard of when he entered the Secret Service 30 years ago, and suggested that by year 2000, a similar scientific advancement would change the face of law enforcement.

"I'm a good policeman," Knight said, "but you will be better" because of your education and new technology.

San Diego Sheriff Duffy said that there is a cycle to law enforcement and it's funding, and that it is now starting another upswing.

Duffy said that women will take greater police roles in the future, and that by year 2000, 30 percent of all officers will be women, and 10 percent of the command staff will be women.

General Timmerberg noted that Army crime statistics had traditionally paralleled those of the civilian population, but that it's crime rate was down 20 percent in the past five years.

Gen. Timmerberg noted that drug suppression was a major goal of his command. Explorer Post 10-4 begins its 12th year of consecutive operation in October.

The post met on the second and fourth Wednesdays of every month at the Madison police department.

David McLaughlin is the post first vice-president and was the ranking Explorer attending the conference from "10-4."

Petrillo urges local payment of tax bills

Taxpayers in the Quad City area can expect to receive their tax bills in the mail this week, end of next, Granite City Township Tax Collector Nick Petrillo said this morning.

Petrillo said he was informed by the office of County Treasurer, Mike Henshaw that the bills will reach homeowners by Sept. 1, at the latest, and the first installment of taxes will be due Oct. 1 with the final installment due Dec. 1.

Petrillo is to pick up the tax books for Granite City Township today on tomorrow from the county clerk and will begin making immediate arrangements for collection to be done locally.

Taxpayers may pay their bills at local banks or at the treasurer's office in city hall.

Petrillo suggests that taxpayers make their checks payable to "Granite City Township Tax Collector" and pay them locally, so the money can be distributed faster to local taxing bodies.

If residents will pay their taxes locally as soon as the bills are received, the taxing bodies can avoid additional borrowing, and that will save the taxpayers thousands of dollars of interest, he explained.

He pledged that his office will distribute the taxes it receives as rapidly as possible to save the city, the school district, and the taxing bodies from having to borrow more money. Paying taxes to the county causes a delay in disbursements to the taxing bodies, which can be avoided by paying taxes locally, Petrillo contended.

He urged taxpayers to ignore instructions on the tax bills which tell them to send the payments to the county clerk at Edwardsville. Instead, he said, payment at convenient local centers, will assure speedy distribution of taxes, which will benefit everyone, taxpayers and governmental agencies.

Raw sewage

The Illinois Pollution Control Board against the sanitary district alleging that the district has allowed up to two million gallons of raw sewage to escape into the Mississippi River from the Cahokia treatment plant during the last three years.

Greathouse commented, "I have never been notified, although this has been going on for some time. I didn't know anything about them (state officials) being here Friday, although I have been here 10 hours a day and nobody tried to contact me."

Greathouse said he toured the Cahokia plant Sunday and believes it would cost between $75,000 and $85,000 to put into top condition. "That's money we don't have," he commented.

"Actually, that's a very complicated situation—a very technical thing, with flow meters, pumps, clarifiers, aerators, digesters and all that. This is just a primary plant, not secondary treatment," he explained.

Greathouse admitted that the flow meter is broken at the Cahokia treatment plant and a qualified repairman wants $100 an hour to work on it. "This is one of the reasons we have not been sending in monthly reports, I said, obviously, we have to get that fixed and send them monthly reports," he added.

He also found that two of the aerators on the aerator, one is broken and the other is only working partially. "There are probably a couple of things we will have to do and will be happy to do them," Greathouse stated, noting that the sanitary district has been trying its best to comply with the state edicts.

"But, he warned, "It would cost somewhere between $75,000 to $85,000 to put that plant back into top condition. We don't have that kind of money. The Lansdowne treatment plant budget is about $350,000 a year. If we collected all the treatment fees that we bill, it would still be $60,000 or $70,000 short. We need a rate increase to keep these plants going," he predicted.

"Users of the Lansdowne plant pay $5.85 per quarter (each three months). Cahokia users pay $6.75 per quarter and those two rates have got to be the lowest in the state of Illinois. Glenwood Estates near Glen Carbon pays $34 a month. There is just no way in the world this district can exist with these kinds of rates," he added.

Furthermore, Greathouse predicted, "At Lansdowne the state is trying to force us to add secondary treatment. The estimate for that was $7 million, seven years ago. I understand SWIMARPC (Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission) stopped that because they wanted a regional treatment plant. Now, I think the cost has tripled or quadrupled. Where is the money going to come from? It all has to come off user fees."

Greathouse blamed low collections of treatment fees for the current economic crisis and said he opposes increasing treatment fees when half of the users are not paying their bills.

"I take the stand that I am not going to sit on a board and double the treatment charges on half of the people who are paying while half of them are not paying anything. Lovejoy (Brooklyn) owes us $17,864, that's nearly 10 quarters behind."

"We have had as high as $300,000 in delinquent bills here. Currently, for both plants, we have about $120,000 in delinquencies."

"We have tried using liens, notices, we have cut off sewers, our attorneys consistently try to collect the money, I just don't think it's fair to put an increase on people when half are not paying," Greathouse said.

He contended the actions by Fahner are political in nature, since the sanitary district has been doing its best to comply with all of the state's requests. Fahner is a Republican who was appointed a year ago and who is seeking re-election next year.

Although the latest lawsuit calls for fines of $10,000 for each of four counts, plus $10,000-a-day fines on three counts and $1,000-a-day on the fourth, Fahner said the state is not interested in imposing fines on the district, but feels that immediate action is needed if the district is to solve the problems with its treatment plants.

A hearing on a separate lawsuit contending that the Lansdowne treatment plant has been discharging raw sewage into the Mississippi River is scheduled for Sept. 15.

Fahner said he realizes that the sanitary district has financial difficulties, but raw sewage could cause serious health problems for communities downstream which rely on the Mississippi River for their water supplies. He said an order from a third party (the Illinois Pollution Control Board) may "get their attention" and get the district started making needed repairs to treatment plants.

If the district fails to comply with an order of the IPCB to repair the plants and operate them properly, Fahner noted, the district has no choice but to impose stiff penalties.

Greathouse has said in the past that if the state wants to dictate how the treatment plants should be operated, "Let the state take them over. Let them operate them. We would be tickled to death."

Fahner said the state does not have the money to assume operation and maintenance of the treatment plants and wants the sanitary district to continue to operate them. However, he noted, the district has some of the lowest treatment fees in the state and should consider increasing them so that it has the money to properly repair and maintain the treatment plants.

Schools were closed two years ago. Most school tax rates in the Granite City district are at their maximum, and voters have rejected higher rates. Reductions in state and federal school funds are being experienced this year.

Madison school budget hiked to $6.2 million

By MICK STRANGE
Of The Press-Record

The Madison Board of Education's tentative budget for the 1981-82 year of $6,200,700 is available for public inspection beginning at 8 a.m. today in the board office at 1707 Fourth St., Madison.

The tentative budget is $319,355 higher, or 5.3 percent higher than the 1980-81 budget of $5,764,345.

A public hearing on the budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 24, in the board office.

The district fiscal year begins July 1.

The school tax rate for 1980 that is being collected now is $2.80 per $100 assessed valuation, a decrease from the 1979 school tax collected last year of $3.33 per $100 assessed valuation.

Some of the major changes in the tentative budget are: school lunch has been raised by $7,900, from $332,000 to $339,900; an increase of approximately 2 percent. Estimated revenue is $265,000.

Transportation has been budgeted for the new year at $191,050, an increase of $15,050 from $176,000; an 8 percent increase. Estimated revenue is $111,000.

The Illinois Municipal Retirement fund has been decreased by 5 percent, from $100,000 last year to $95,200 for 1981-82. Estimated IMRF revenue is $77,000.

The building fund has been increased 15 percent, from $224,000 to $257,600, a rise of $33,600.

The board is planning repair work on some existing buildings and is in hopes of doing some work on the old junior high building. Estimated revenue for 1981-82 is $234,300, and there is a cash balance of $457,318 in the building fund account.

The Bonds and Interest fund is down $9,500, from $177,000 to $167,500, a decrease of about 6 percent; with estimated revenue at $144,275.

Teachers salaries (Educational Fund) for the 1981-82 budget are $4,229,965, an increase of 7.5 percent. This new figure does not include a separate account for Title I of $418,320 budgeted.

Title I salary figures are now kept in a different account than last year; as a change in the accounting system to the state has been made.

Fire and Safety fund will remain the same at $40,000. The Special Education facilities fund is budgeted at $60,000.

Madison teacher talks continue

By MICK STRANGE
Of The Press-Record

The Madison Community Unit District 12 has received notification that all of the district buildings have been approved by the state for use of school classes.

At the Thursday night meeting of the Madison School Board, a letter was sent from Harold E. Briggs, regional superintendent of schools, stating that an inspection was made on Friday, Aug. 14, and that all the buildings scheduled for use "are adequate and efficient for the conduct of classes."

Classes are scheduled to start on Tuesday, with teachers reporting Monday orientation sessions. The next contract between the American Federation of Teachers Local 753 and the board of the Madison Community Unit District 12 had not been signed at the time of the Thursday night meeting.

Superintendent of Schools John Palchek reported to the board that the negotiations were going well and no problems were anticipated.

Another meeting is scheduled Friday morning and further meetings may be held during the weekend.

The board is to hold a special meeting tonight (Monday) at 7 p.m. with personnel and unfinished business on the agenda. The contract may be ratified at this time.

Palchek told the board that the two groups were very close and had settled almost everything, but the salaries.

Board member Don Garrett questioned why the board was not consulted on the hiring of certificated (teachers) personnel.

He said, "We're the elected officials, and all other applications go before the board. Why don't the teachers?"

Superintendent Palchek said that any board member was welcome to review applications and make suggestions to the board.

One board member noted that it is the practice in Madison, and other districts, that certified personnel are screened, interviewed and recommended for hiring to the board by the administrator.

Garrett asked several other questions and a heated exchange between board members took place.

It was pointed out to Garrett that most of his questions had been dealt with by the board at earlier meetings at which he was either absent or late.

Garrett was late at the July 16 meeting, coming to the board meeting right as the meeting was being adjourned; board records indicate he was absent at the Aug. 18 special meeting and absent at the Aug. 6 regular meeting.

Board President Sam Dymas was absent at Thursday's meeting and Richard Zeisset acted as chairman.

The board approved increasing milk prices at the schools to 15 cents for students and 25 cents for adults.

The price of the reduced lunch is 40 cents.

Student lunch prices have been raised slightly at the various schools; Blair and Harris elementary schools from 55 cents to 75 cents, Louis Baer and the new middle school from 60 cents to 80 cents, and at Madison High School from 65 cents to 90 cents.

A question was raised about the old junior high school on Third Street, in regard to it being converted into a vocational training center.

Wade James, assistant superintendent of schools, said that they were waiting on the school architect.

A board member commented, "We had better build a fire under our architect. It seems that we have been waiting for quite a long time."

Richard Zeisset acted as chairman of the meeting.

The board expressed its appreciation to the Granite City Press-Record for their picture of the new stage curtains at the Madison High School and to Pat Foley chief photographer of the Press-Record for taking "such a fine picture."

"The Madison Mothers Club, Junior Service Club, Club Minerva Reading Club and worked hard and combined their money from several projects to purchase the new stage curtains for the high school auditorium. We all appreciate their efforts," Palchek said.

The Madison police also received praise from the board and superintendent for their quick response on a recent burglary attempt at the Louis Baer school.

"The burglar alarm went off and the police were right there and caught the two youths in the building. This is real good work, I'd say," Palchek noted with board agreement.

The board voted to continue participating in the CO-Ordinated Youth Services Alternative Education Program for 1981-82 and appropriated $9,710 as the district's share of the program.

Mrs. Ida Maureen Lacy was hired as a special education teacher at the primary level. She holds a Masters degree in special education and has been teaching in Alton.

Williams of Burton-on-Trent, but the cousins have never met.

Michelle, 22, was graduated recently from Huddersfield Polytechnic University and will start her new job as a buyer with Fenwick's, a retail firm with six departments stores, on Sept. 1.

Three of the stores are located in London and the others in Oxford, Newcastle and Windsor, Michelle said. She will work in London.

As part of her college education, Michelle spent six months in industrial training in France, learning the buying procedures there and perfecting her French.

She also was employed as a trainee buyer at Littlewood's Department Store in Liverpool, another external educational program of Huddersfield Polytechnic.

Littlewood's is one of the largest department store chains in the United Kingdom.

She's enjoying American television and noted that some of the shows, even TV quiz shows, are quite risqué compared to those on British television.

"I believe it's because the English are a lot more reserved, generally speaking," she commented.

At one point in the interview when asked if she'd met and dated any interesting young men while here, Michelle blushed and commented, "This is like being on the Johnny Carson Show."

She admitted, however, to having had "a few dates" during her visit.

Since arriving here on June 25, the attractive young visitor has traveled to several sections of the United States.

She has visited Colorado, where one of the Withers' three sons, Charles E. Withers, an attorney, lives in Montrose.

Michelle and her hosts also drove to Minneapolis, Minn., and stayed with Dennis Withers, another son, who is marketing manager for General Mills.

During the Minnesota holiday, the British visitor and her hosts traveled further north and went into Canada on a fishing trip.

Yes, she caught quite a few Northern pike and was delighted with the experience, Michelle said.

In Granite City, Michelle has been spending quite a bit of time with the Withers' youngest son, Pat, and his family.

He operates the Pat Withers Mobile Homes Transporting firm on Rural Route One.

"My grandchildren certainly are enjoying her," Mrs. Withers said, speaking of Michelle.

The young woman and her parents, David and Dorothea Williams, reside in Burton-on-Trent, a town of 140,000 population about 10 miles from Derby (pronounced Durrby by Michelle).

Despite the population size, her home community is still called a town, rather than a city.

"I believe it's because we don't have a cathedral in Burton-on-Trent, which then would make it a city," she explained.

"The town is pretty famous for its beer," she added.

She has a sister, Mrs. John (Petra) Williams-Baker, whose American husband is from Long Island, N.Y.

Both John and Petra are graduates of Oxford University in England, where they met.

At present, they are living in Dublin, Ireland, where he is lecturing in philosophy at University College.

"The only areas in England which I believe may be superior to the same areas in America are health and education," Michelle said.

Britain has the National Health Service, which provides complete health care at no cost to the individual. The program is funded through general taxation.

In Britain, educational grants are available to everyone meeting requirements to attend college, she said.

In order to get a grant and enter a university, a student must pass 'A' level examinations in at least two subjects at age 18.

"Generally, people take three 'A' level subjects," she said.

Michelle said she would like to come back to the United States to live and work.

"It's rather difficult to get work and before you can come to America you must already have a job and a sponsor," she explained.

London so I'll gain experience and have more to offer if I can come back," she said.

Her interests focus on buying fashion, but she said she would not mind doing sportswear, a field which appears to be gaining in popularity.

"The fashion field will allow me to travel and attend the fashion shows and, hopefully, come to the New York shows," she said with enthusiasm.

"I think the chances of coming back to America are quite strong," she added.

Michelle mentioned having visited France a few times, in addition to her six-month training period there.

"But, I prefer America. I don't think the people there (France) are that friendly," she said.

"The fact I'm in England has helped me to make friends here, I believe."

"People I meet say—'Let me hear your accent,' or 'Speak to me.' I usually don't know what to say back."

Another new experience for the young woman occurred last Monday night when she was among the 26,833 baseball fans attending the Cardinals' triumph over the San Diego Padres in the bottom of the 13th inning at Busch Stadium.

Her first baseball game was "very exciting," she said. The other 26,832 fans probably would concur.

Michelle's hostess and second cousin, Mrs. Withers, was born at Grace Morgan in Pontefract, near Cardiff, in South Wales.

She and her parents came to Granite City from Wales when Grace was 9 years old.

She had lost touch with other family members in the British Isles, after one of her relatives died, until she wrote to a cousin who provided the address of Michelle's father.

Three years ago they began corresponding in a regular basis.

"I am proud of being Welsh and of my roots there and have wanted to learn more. But I am very proud of being an American," Mrs. Withers stated.

"We've talked about going over there (to England and Wales) many times."

"Now that Michelle has been here, I really think we will be going over to visit her family before too long," Mrs. Withers said.

Heavy absenteeism

was gone 12 days, of which four were Wednesdays.

A worker with Thursday and Friday as his normal days off had five days of sickness, including two Wednesdays.

Records for 1981 on regular weekday employees list one with eight missed days because of sickness, including four Thursdays and three Fridays; eight days, three Mondays; four days, two Mondays; three days, two Fridays; and seven days, two Fridays.

A worker normally away each Thursday and Friday was absent 11 other days for reasons of illness, including two Saturdays, two Sundays and four Mondays. And an employee usually off each Wednesday and Thursday has missed eight days thus far this year on account of sickness, including two Fridays, a Saturday and three Sundays.

Sick days lacking documentation were numerous, as indicated by the staff's totals for each year.

For example, in 1979, 218 of one worker's sick days were without documentation; seven of another's nine sick days were undocumented; seven of seven; five of four; five of five; 15 of 15; 17 of 17; 17 of 18; 14 of 14 undocumented; 11 of 14 for another worker; 12 of 12; and 15 undocumented out of one man's 21 sick days.

The pattern continued in 1980: seven of seven days; five of nine; six of 12; five of five; three of three; two of two; one and a half of one and a half; three of four; four of five; seven of seven; six of six; eight of 13; and eight undocumented days out of ten days of sickness.

This year, there were four of four days; seven of ten; four of four; three of three; another three of three; seven of nine; seven of 15; five of five; six of 11; seven of 11; and eight out of eight.

In many other cases, hospitalization and convalescence were recorded—29 days for one man in 1979, periods of 45, 38 and 34 days for three of the employees last year, and a 62-day hospitalization this year.

Attrition over the past several years has totaled one death, one illness and one retirement; along with two layoffs, the staff is down to 26 from 31.

A point made by Alderman Decatur at last week's City Council session is that the budget adopted for the 1981-82 fiscal year now under way allows only for 24 employees, not the 26 being retained.

Terry McMillan, superintendent of the treatment plant, disputed this at the meeting but acknowledged Friday that the budgeted staff is 24. He apologized to Decatur for disagreeing with the alderman's recollection.

To offset the budget difference of $56,000—consisting of yearly costs of $28,000 for each of two employees, 26 compared to 24—the city hopes to save $33,000 annually through less weekend and holiday manning, and $15,000 in overtime reductions.

Decatur agreed Friday that a $168,000 cost-cutting program of trimming the treatment plant staff by six, from 30 to 24, with 26 now working, $112,000 has been saved, plus the $33,000 and $15,000, for a total saving of $160,000.

However, treatment plant finances are still not "out of the woods," in Decatur's opinion. He said there are numerous overdue bills, jeopardizing some of the plant's supply sources.

The alderman said the city's current cash flow report shows that the treatment plant owes the general fund $155,500 and that it owes another fund $30,800.

In addition, during last week's council meeting $185,765 was transferred from the general fund to the treatment plant fund, prompting Alderman Fred "Red" Schuman to describe the situation as "nauseous."

Schuman said, "There are a lot of good people and good workers at the treatment plant. You know who you are. There are also some bad people there, and they know who they are."

Alderman Mac Warfield complained about the amount of absenteeism, including Monday and Friday absences. He asked that the treatment staff be encouraged to reduce its absences on scheduled workdays.

Alderman Casmer Skidish agreed with Warfield and urged all city employees to have a spirit of compromise and cooperation in reducing costs to the level of funds available to the municipality.

Decatur told the Press-Record he is concerned about the amount of sickness among treatment plant workers who fail to provide documentation. He stressed that doctor reports should be submitted each week by alling employees.

He also said the city needs to establish some type of financial penalty to encourage regular attendance at work, such as "docking" of pay for the first three days or the first seven days of an illness.

At present, those who fail to report for work escape any financial loss, Decatur said.

One of three candidates for the office of mayor in the April 7 election, Alderman Decatur pledged that 11 treatment plant workers reported they were sick on that election day.

The alderman voiced suspicion over whether some officials may have conferred between aldermanic meetings on the issue of reducing the treatment plant staff to 24 or 26.

"On two different occasions, we had virtually unanimous council support to do this—two 13-0 votes ordering a 24-man staff. But on Aug. 18, the sentiment was nearly a complete reversal—11 votes to two for a 26-member staff," Decatur said.

Record lottery payout Thursday

The previous Illinois State Lottery daily game prize payout record of $1,376,315, only one time days earlier, was extended Thursday night when players who selected that day's winning number of 1-2-3 won $1,494,749.

Thursday's payout was 216.42 percent of the $690,664 bet on that day's daily game drawing.

Michael J. Jones, state lottery superintendent, said that over the past 16 days (Aug. 11-30, inclusive), daily game players won $4,874,905 and bought $6,185,677 in tickets.

Jones added that 1-2-3 had been drawn once before in the daily game, on March 5, 1980, when players who selected that number won $916,115.

"These numbers have consistently been among the most popular ones picked every day by daily game players," Jones said.

"The primary reason we can assume for this is the number's simplicity, or the fact that the numbers comprise a single row of buttons on touch tone telephones and calculators. "In my experience in talking with daily game players, they usually report selecting a number because of some personal significance—a birthday, a license tag number, the sum of family members' ages, an important personal date, or something similar."

Bill raises penalty for burglary

Governor James R. Thompson announced Friday he has signed legislation that raises the penalty for residential burglary.

"Anyone who has been the victim of a home burglary knows that terrible feeling of coming home and finding that your most valued possessions have been stolen. It is difficult to ever again feel secure in your home once this has happened," Thompson said.

"Burglars should think twice about burglarizing a home now, knowing they could go to prison for twice the length of time that the state law currently calls for."

Senate Bill 214 toughens the penalty for a Class 2 felony, which carries a three-year to seven-year prison term, to a Class 1 felony, which calls for four years to 15 years in prison.

The crime also would be non-probationable.

The legislation, which takes effect January 1, 1982, was sponsored by Senator John Davidson and Representative Irv Smith, both of Springfield.

Faces numerous traffic charges

Richard A. Evans, 17, of 2161 Benton Ave., was released at 5:30 p.m. Friday after posting $202 cash bond on traffic citations of reckless conduct, no drivers license, and fleeing and attempting to elude police.

Evans, who had a passenger in the car he was driving, allegedly tried to run down two boys, then went into the parking lot of Yankee Insulation, 4000 Braden Ave., spun around several times, according to a witness, and left at a high rate of speed.

The car was reported to have gone into the Braden Trailer Court then left, but was seen by police in the driveway of a vacant house on Norwood Drive.

Police blocked the driveway and took Evans into custody.

BATTERY ALLEGED

Bill R. Parris, 44, was arrested for battery at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the 2000 block of Washington Avenue for allegedly striking Katherine Parris, 2284 State St., with his fists. He was released on $35 bail.

BOMB FOUND

Granite City Steel security guards discovered a discarded aerial bomb at 3:55 a.m. Friday on plant property, in a scrap area east of the open hearth furnaces.

The area was kept secure until the Granite City Army Installation explosive disposal squad could respond later Friday morning.

The four-foot-long device, about 14 inches in circumference, was red with a yellow stripe.

STOLEN TRUCK

Keith Harris, 280 E. 24th St., reported that prior to 4:40 a.m. Sunday, his 1971, white over beige, Ford pickup truck was stolen from in front of his residence.

State says it is regaining favorable business climate

Governor James R. Thompson believes that efforts by the Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs to aid existing industry and attract new business to the state resulted in 800 new jobs and $25.2 million in capital investments during the second quarter of 1981.

Thompson said that from April through June, DCCA worked with six firms which will build or expand seven facilities at sites across the state.

"These plant locations indicate dramatically that the business community has regained faith in Illinois as a good place to do business. That faith is being translated into jobs for Illinois workers," the governor said.

A spokesman for one firm planning to create 100 to 150 jobs said that, after initially looking at the South and Southwest, his company determined Illinois offered the most advantages.

"Although Illinois has received publicity about an unfavorable business climate, quite a few changes have been made or are being made which are conducive to retaining or attracting industry," the spokesman said.

Thompson said one of the most important changes made in Illinois has been an attitude change — evident even in the handling of one of Illinois' thorniest business problems, reform of the unemployment insurance system.

"By sitting all the parties down," the governor said, "we were able to bring business and labor together to work out compromise legislation which will save Illinois business $480 million annually."

"This partnership or cooperation is the key to, the decision to leave making Illinois competitive with the Sun Belt and our neighboring states." Vetter Platings, a Rantoul-based firm which manufactures shields to protect motorcycles from the weather, closed its California plant and is expanding its Rantoul operation by more than 120 people. New employees will be trained through a state-funded job-training program.

Tony Starkey, personnel manager for Vetter, said the training program here was one of the prime factors in the decision to leave California.

"We had a good experience using a state program to train 25 employees when we brought out a new product earlier this year."

"In fact, we're so pleased with the kind of help we've gotten from the state, we're looking into getting training assistance so we can undertake a new manufacturing process," Starkey related.

"In addition to Illinois' assistance and incentive programs, the state has natural advantages, that made it an industrial giant in the first place," Thompson said.

Those natural advantages,

GRANITE CITY (Ill.) PRESS-RECORD, Monday, August 24, 1981 — 7

such as central location, were cited by two firms that announced decisions to build in Illinois during the second quarter of this year.

Mississippi Valley Airlines President Earl W. McLaughlin announced the firm's plans to move its corporate headquarters from La Crosse, Wis., to Moline in April. At that time, he said the central location in MVA's route system was a significant factor in the airline's decision to relocate.

He also cited "outstanding support from the community," including issuance of $2.5 million in industrial revenue bonds which made financing the project more favorable for the small regional air carrier. DCCA is currently developing a job training program for the airline.

Color Tile, Inc., a Texas-based manufacturer, distributor and retailer of home improvement products, also cited Illinois' central location as a key factor in its decision to locate two new facilities in the Chicago area.

Charles Patrick, executive vice president of manufacturing, distribution and transportation, said Illinois is ideal for the company's Midwest warehouse and distribution center, which will be situated at Park Forest South.

He said the availability of raw materials and the presence of skilled labor were determining factors in the company's decision to locate a manufacturing plant in West Chicago. Color Tile also is taking advantage of DCCA's industrial training program for both new facilities.

"The commitment of these firms to the new opportunities offered by Illinois are only a forerunner of economic growth to come," the governor predicted.

ASF credit union adopts new code of ethics

The ASF Granite City Employees Federal Credit Union, Granite City, has adopted a new Credit Union Code of Ethics and a set of standards for credit union group purchasing plans recommended by the Illinois Credit Union League and the Credit Union National Association, Inc. (CUNA). "This code and these standards," said John Singer, president, "provide written assurance to our members and the community that we not only claim to act in the best interests of our members, but we also have an established, written policy to achieve this goal."

The Code of Ethics, Singer said, clearly states that the credit union's fundamental commitment is to serving its members according to "the highest standards of responsibility and conduct." It outlines the credit union's responsibilities to its members and to society, and sets out five standards of leadership for credit union officials and staff members. The standards for group purchasing plans, Singer said, provide written guidelines for financial and related services the credit union now offers its members, or might seek to offer in the future. "The standards will assure that any product or service is good for the member, fairly and ethically marketed without undue pressure, and meets all legal requirements concerning the credit union and the product or service itself," Singer said.

The code and the standards, Singer said, were developed over a period of about a year by the Standards Review Committee of CUNA, in cooperation with state leagues around the country and with the advice of credit union regulatory agencies on the national and state levels. The ASF Granite City Employees Federal Credit Union is a member of the Illinois State League and CUNA. Founded in 1946, the ASF Granite City Employees Federal Credit Union serves all employees of the American Steel Foundries, 1700 Walnut Ave., Granite City, and their immediate families. The credit union will celebrate its 35th anniversary in October this year. It has 1,400 members and $1,720,027.26 in assets.

AUTO STRIKES TWO SIGNS, AND A POST
 Gregory Davis, 35, of 302 Wilson Park Lane, was charged with reckless driving at 8:30 a.m. Thursday after his auto hit a state sign, a Mississippi River Transmission Corp. gas line marker and the Illinois Power Co. utility pole, knocking down a guy wire. Davis pleaded innocent and was freed on $100 bail. His northbound auto failed to complete a right turn from Missouri Avenue onto Route Three, onto 28th Street. The car, damaged about the left front end, was towed from the scene.

Most of replacement taxes for 1981 paid

Local units of government have received the sixth of eight payments in 1981 under the corporate personal property replacement tax, according to J. Thomas Johnson, director of the Illinois Department of Revenue. Checks totaling $16.2 million were distributed to 5,972 local units of government. They bring total allocations for this year to $417.9 million. Johnson said total 1981 payments should be about $510 million. The 1,018 public school districts in the state have received the major portion of the money thus far — $2.2 percent, or $218.2 million. Municipalities have received the next largest portion — 20.4 percent, or $85.2 million.

Other local units receiving funds include counties, 8.7 percent, parks 5.3 percent, sanitary districts 3.8 percent, junior colleges 3.6 percent and roads, 1.8 percent. The replacement taxes were authorized by the Illinois General Assembly in August 1979 to make up for funds lost to local governments when the corporate personal property tax was abolished at the end of 1979 by the 1970 state constitution. Under the present system, taxes are collected from corporate income by the Department of Revenue and the money is then distributed to local level governments. Distributions are made eight times a year. January, March, April, May, July, August, October and December.

Over 350 state fleet cars to be auctioned Aug. 29

The Illinois Department of Administrative Services will hold its second surplus State Vehicle Auction of the year on Saturday, Aug. 29. Beginning at 9 a.m., at Camp Lincoln, 1301 North MacArthur Blvd., Springfield, over 350 surplus state fleet cars, several trucks, one tractor, and a 1970 Porsche will be auctioned to the highest bidder. Pre-registration of bidders will begin at 8 a.m. the day of the sale, however all vehicles are available for inspection by the public on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 26 and 27, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Cars will be sold individually on an as-is basis, and condition will vary from vehicle to vehicle. All purchased vehicles must be removed from the grounds immediately upon conclusion of the auction. Payments must be by cash, certified check, money order, or travelers checks in increments of $500 or less. Other than cash transactions must be accompanied with two forms of positive identification, i.e. driver's license, firearms card, etc. Personal checks for amounts exceeding $1,000 and all company checks will be accepted only when supported by a letter of credit issued by an Illinois Bank. Such a letter should be on the bank's letterhead and designate the amount of credit approved. The Department of Administrative Services reserves the right to refuse any letter of credit.

Learn your region — violet jelly, spearmint, sassafras

Belleville Area College biology students enjoyed an edible final examination during the final days of summer school. May-apple jelly, sunflower brittle, dandelion greens and candied spearmint leaves were only a few of the delicacies prepared by students in Leo Welch's field biology and ecology class. Students were required to prepare a dish for the wild-foods buffet, choosing ingredients from plants and animals studied during the eight-week course. The remainder of the menu was filled out by fish, sassafras tea, violet jelly, a blueberry delight, prickly-pear-cactus fruit and candied burdock stems. Of the last, one member of the class said: "They were pithy but good." The violet jelly was less to his liking. He described it as "disgusting." The course is designed to teach students about the natural surroundings of Illinois and nearby states. Field trips were taken weekly to complement laboratory research and lectures. The final trip was a three-day trek through parts of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan to observe ecologies from prairies to forests to dunes. About a dozen students from throughout BAC District 322 participated in the class. Welch will conduct a seminar in field ecology during the first eight weeks of the fall 1981 semester. The course, biology 299, will meet from 8:30 a.m. to 12:10 p.m. Saturdays beginning Aug. 29. The two-hour, college-credit course has a $10 lab fee in addition to tuition of $34 ($17 per credit hour). The course will feature field trips to natural sites in this region.

Truck-rail steel shipping expands

Illinois Central Gulf Railroad's truck-rail-truck service for steel products is being extended to the Dallas area through a new interline agreement with the Southern Pacific Transportation Co. The agreement will connect rapidly growing industry in the Dallas area with the major steel mills of Illinois and Indiana, said Harke J. Bruce, ICG senior vice president of marketing. Intended to be truck competitive on both pricing and delivery times, the TTT service was developed in 1976 to provide steel shippers with door-to-door service. Unlike conventional intermodal service, it not only picks up and delivers the products but also palletizes and shrink-wraps them for protection from the elements. Operating now throughout the upper Midwest, the service will connect with the Southern Pacific line at East St. Louis for the run to Texas. Shipping characteristics of steel coils, plates and bars created challenges. The weight required, extra bracing and blocking. Steel also must be protected from the weather, and loads for more than one destination are often shipped on a single rail car.

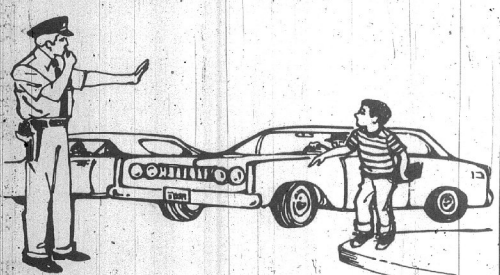

ICG developed a pallet that provides bracing and utilizes plastic wrapping. Because the pallet is ventilated, potential damage from condensation is eliminated. A truck picks up steel products from mills and hauls them to a nearby rail yard. The steel is put on a pallet, permitting loads destined for four separate customers to be shipped on a single bulkhead flatcar. Once the railroad completes the long haul to the destination rail yard, the pallets are delivered by truck to the consignees. The protective wrap stays on until the freight is removed from the pallet. There is a single bill of lading covering the complete move, pickup through delivery, and TTT traffic moves in top priority train service. Goal is to combine the convenience of door-to-door delivery with efficiencies and cost savings of rail transportation, while saving diesel fuel and freeing highways of congestion. Since March 1978, ICG has hauled 33,000 loads of steel products by truck-rail-truck. Last year, on one freight corridor alone, TTT carried the equivalent of 3,000 truckloads.

Named assistant press secretary to governor

Governor James R. Thompson has announced the appointment of James H. Prescott as an assistant press secretary to the Governor's Office. Jim Prescott has been involved in the intern program in the Governor's Office this summer and I am proud that he has chosen to continue in a full-time capacity in the administration," the Governor said. Prescott, 22, of Oak Park, was graduated from Illinois State University, Normal, last May with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Journalism and Communications. While at ISU, he served as acting editor-in-chief of the Daily Vidette and also held positions as news editor, state editor, opinions council member, reporter and night editor. He also anchored and reported daily on TV-10 News, a cable news program.

He also received awards for outstanding reporter and for best news story. Prescott, who was graduated from Oak Park-River Forest High School, in June, 1977, will reside in Springfield. NAMED IN 2 CHARGES

Fear not enough to stop Corral from splitting

By RICK WELLS
For the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The Corral Liquor Cowboys, if nothing else, found out one thing about the City League playoffs: No matter what your record in the regular season, everything is back to square one.

The Edwardsville Nationals, barely into the playoffs after tying with Collinsville for the fourth and final playoff spot, pulled out all stops yesterday afternoon at Wilson Park and crushed the Cowboys in the first game of a playoff double-header, 7-3.

Corral woke up in the second game, however, and out-clashed the Nationals, 8-3.

"We were a little too loose the first game," said Corral coach Ken Crawford. "I guess we just thought we were going to come out here and win two real easily. You just can't do that."

Because the Nationals played two more games than Collinsville in the regular season, the two teams' records left only a few percentage points between them. In a league meeting Saturday, Collinsville decided to drop out of contention because many of its players had to return to college.

Corral, sporting a 19-3 regular-season record, found itself wondering if it would even see the finals after the first game. But by virtue of the double-header split, a third and deciding game will be played at 1 p.m. Sunday at Hoppe Field in Edwardsville. It will be nine innings.

Steve Stoltz was the Cowboys' biggest adversary in the first game. The Edwardsville right-hander held Corral to three runs on eight hits.

The Nationals jumped out to an early 2-0 lead in the second inning on a two-RBI single by Steve Mueller.

The Cowboys came right back, however, with one in the bottom of the second. Jeff Stamper doubled and Mark Clark singled him home.

Clark then put the Cowboys on top in the fourth inning. After Stamper had reached on a fielder's choice, Clark blasted a two-run homer to left field for a 3-2 lead.

That was the last time Corral led in the game. The Nationals jumped on losing pitcher Dan Hirstein for four runs in the fifth. The big blow was a three-run homer by Charles Ellis to deep center field. The Nationals has 13 hits.

Edwardsville added one more in the seventh for insurance on an RBI-single by Steve Mueller and looked to have the momentum going into the second game.

"We just didn't have any breaks in the first game," Crawford said. "We had a few the second game, and I guess that's all we needed."

At first it didn't appear Corral was going to get the breaks. The Nationals again jumped out to an early lead by tagging Crawford for three runs in the first inning.

Tim Gamble started all the problems by drawing a lead-off walk. He then stole second and third and scored on a single by Bruce Pfeiffer.

Crawford then added to his own problems. When Mueller laid down a bunt to sacrifice Pfeiffer over; Crawford fielded it cleanly but threw wildly to first. Pfeiffer scored and Mueller went over to second.

Mueller then scored on a broken-bat bloop single to center field by Rasty Burian.

The Cowboys hopped on losing pitcher Las Four for two in their first. Tom Greco singled home Mike Clark, who had walked. He later scored from third when he and Dave Hagenbrock pulled a double steal.

Corral's big thing was the fourth. The Cowboys scored four runs off Fear before Stoltz came back onto the scene in relief.

Stamper doubled to lead off the inning. Mike Clark walked and Larry Burns loaded the bases with a bunt single. Mike DeChis was hit by a pitch, driving in the first run.

With the bases still loaded, Mike Clark flew a right. But right-fielder Derek Pitts dropped the ball, allowing two runs to score. Mike Clark scored on Hagenbrock's single after Stoltz came into the game.

The Cowboys added single insurance runs in the fifth and sixth. Jeff Tretter had an RBI-double in the sixth.

Crawford gave up five hits before going way to relieve Tom Greco with one out. Crawford had walked three men in the seventh inning.

HE'S SAFE—

Hirstein who is covering the plate on the play. Corral and Hirstein went on to lose the first game 7-3, but salvaged the second one 8-3.

Murphy Maden lead Maryville past McDonald's

By Jeff Wilson
For the Press-Record
MARYVILLE — It's not every team that waits until its first playoff game, and 21 of the season, to have a new leader emerge. It's not every team that waits until its second game on the same day to find another.

But when Maryville manager Harold "Honey" Oberkell left ill early Sunday afternoon, two others took charge.

Led by the pitching and hitting of both Larry Maden and Glen Murphy, and helped by some disputed calls in the field, Maryville defeated McDonald's 2-1, 4-1 to win both second place in the Inter-City League and the right to advance to the league championship game in two weeks.

At the games start both teams, with 10-10 records, knew the winner of the first game would earn the second place trophy. Both teams also knew losing two games would mean elimination. Both teams played that way too.

McDonald's Steve Doty, pitching in his second game of the season, and Maden, also pitching in his second game, were locked in a brilliant pitching battle in the first game. But the big story of the game turned out to be a play at the plate on the final play of the game.

Maryville's Bob Ricker singled to right to leadoff the ninth. Dan Bixler followed with another single and Marty Westmeyer was intentionally walked by Doty leading the bases to set up the double play.

Mendenhall's walk also got Murphy's first of game-winning RBIs in order.

Murphy grounded to shortstop Jeff Parker, who threw to catcher Mark Linhart for the forecure on Ricker at home. Linhart relayed to first hitting Murphy on the left shoulder.

Bixler, watching the play closely stopped, then started for home. He ran by Linhart with the winning run for the second place championship. There was no question that the run scored. It did. But Ricker was still in the area around home when Bixler scored.

"He (Ricker) took me out and when I turned to catch the ball he was on the back of my leg," Linhart said.

Ricker and Bixler believed he was not obstructing and so did both umpires. "He called it good," Bixler said. But that wasn't the consensus on the other side of the field.

"We got robbed in the first game," McDonald's manager Ray Harris said. "It was a judgement call."

He may never have known. "It was that call that took us out of it really coach." But his statement was only partially correct.

Maryville's Maden had all but handcuffed McDonald's and had it not been for one mistake, the game may have ended 10-0.

Maden was foretelling, having allowed only two runs to score all day, when he allowed a leadoff triple to right center by second baseman Al Yount.

After inducing Doty to hit back to him on a sacrifice, Maden threw a pitch that McDonald's Steve Ricker hit in the air to start a sacrifice and a game.

It was Maden's second game pitching of the season. In his first he was impressive, in the second he was dazzling. He allowed six hits and walked four and at most times possessed excellent control. His biggest plus, though, was helping himself in the field.

Maden had five balls hit right back to him, one lined at him and he started a 1-3 double play to end the game.

Even McDonald's Harris wasn't above praising the opposition. "I think he had eight (it was seven) hit back to him. It'd be better if we would have hit some hard enough to get up the middle," Harris said.

Maryville scored first in game one. With one out in the third, Wayne Poston blooped a single to right and Jamie Semanisin followed with a single through short. Fred McClary then hit a sacrifice fly to center to give Maryville the lead until they squandered it in the seventh.

On the other side of the field Doty pitched eight plus innings of eight-hit two-run ball. He was strong in the first few innings, but appeared to weaken as the game progressed. He struck out five and walked two.

The second game set up a different situation than the first. It became a must win for McDonald's, if its season was to continue past Sunday. For Maryville a win meant on to the championship, the championship that last year was McDonald's.

The only difference in games were that umpires from the crowd were used. And if the play in the final inning of game one was still in someone's mind, lingering with a What if? when the new umpire crew didn't change anyone's mind.

In the third, with Maryville on top, another heated discussion took place. Semanisin led off with a walk from pitcher Dave Weil. On a hit and run play, the ball was outside, so Maden lofted his bat at the ball and the umpire promptly called him out for throwing the bat.

Semanisin raced to second, and when the throw was wild, tried for third but was cut down. After the two umpires conferred, Maden was allowed to bat. Semanisin was called out to bat and order was restored for the rest of the game.

When the bedlam died down, Murphy drove in the decisive run in the fourth. A two-out walk to Westmeyer and an RBI double by Murphy gave Maryville all the runs they would need.

They scored single runs in the fifth and sixth as they won 4-1.

Murphy, who struck out eight enroute to a three-hitter, was almost philosophical about the win. "Defense is the name of the game. I think we're about right in our stride," he said.

He also was realistic about the second game. "When the ump couldn't ump the second game it didn't seem like a real game," Murphy said.

But it was, and Maryville was its winners. Murphy's happy attitude told us so.

Barnes among winners in District tennis tourney

GRANITE CITY—Granite City's Mike Barnes won the men's 35-year-old singles title in the Granite City Park District Invitational Tournament Aug. 14-16.

Tumor, lost apprenticeship fail to slow Mike Gale down

By Jeff Wilson
For the Press-Record
As he sat in the spacious surroundings behind the grandstands at Fairmount Park at mid-morning, jockey Mike Gale, 23, talked like a man wanting to overcome adversity.

He had overcome it more than once, the most striking time coming in 1979 when he had a massive brain tumor and the violent seizures that accompanied it.

But a new challenge confronted him on Aug. 12. After one year of riding, Gale automatically lost his apprenticeship as a jockey. Now he is a journeyman.

"They have a five-pound allowance for a rookie. Apprentices don't have the experience that journeymen have," Gale said. The five-pound allowance he referred to was the difference in weights of jockeys when they're on the backs of the horses. Usually apprentices are lighter.

When Gale completed one year of racing at Fairmount, and he became a journeyman, the five-pound allowance became even more important.

"Five pounds lighter gives the horse five more lengths, which means I'm going to be, most likely, riding less horses," Gale said.

The other bug riders (apprentices) are going to pick up a lot of my mounts," he said.

Gale has been riding at Fairmount since 1979, but never raced a full year until this one. At 5-3, 110 pounds it appears he wouldn't have to worry about his weight or size. But he does.

"I worry about my weight always, especially after the weekends," Gale said. In most ways he overcame the weight adversity he is confronted with. But in 1978 he met with a more serious adversity. He had a brain tumor.

When as big as a grapefruit," Gale said as he pointed to the left side of his head. "Doctors thought I had probably had it all my life."

He may never have known he had it, if not for the tumor's growth. It caused him to have violent seizures and pass out. He went into Memorial Hospital in Belleville on June 1, was operated on June 7 and was out of the hospital June 11.

"I just wanted to get the hell out of the hospital," Gale said.

Now out and recovered, Gale has become one of Fairmount's better jockeys. He has ridden more than 1,100 mounts and won 108 races during his apprenticeship.

After Gale began riding away to the big track in November of 1979, he thought his racing career might be over.

"My doctor in Belleville told me I'd never ride again," he said. His seizure, though, was probably due to the medication he was taking, medication that he now takes to keep pressure away from the brain tissue in the brain every day of his life.

Gale didn't begin riding for another year.

"Fairmount is harder on a rider than most parks. You get up at 6 and exercise the horse. You get down at 10 to 11. You go home and get about three hours sleep and it starts over again," Gale said. "Most parks run races during the day. It's more 9-5."

Gale's wife kept him going through his years of trouble.

"She was the one that encouraged me to try," he said. "After I started running horses, I found out that the tumor made no difference.

"There's a lot of tension in this job. You worry about the trainers. You worry about the horses you ride," Gale said.

"When you're away from here you worry about it. You only real way you're away from this job is when you're asleep," he said.

Gale, who was born in Indianapolis and grew up in the St. Louis area, still dreams of racing in the big races, like the Kentucky Derby.

"You dream about it a lot more when you first start out," he said.

Gale's hopes ride on more than dreams. He uses experience to the best of his advantage. Success is his calling card. But he is sincere when he says he never loses sight that his chances of getting to go on to bigger and better tracks are about 50-50.

Virgin chosen Olympic run chairman

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Craig Virgin, one of the country's premier distance runners and a probable participant in the 1984 Olympics, has been named national chairman of Natural Light's "Run Your Way to the 1984 Olympics."

The program is a special, one-month event designed to raise funds to assist America's Olympic effort for the 1984 summer games which will be held in Los Angeles.

Anybody can participate in this Olympic promotion which consists of runners of every ability soliciting pledges for each mile they run in competition or training during October. At the end of the month, the runners will total their mileage and the pledges from their sponsors.

The male and female runners who collect the highest amount of pledges will win an all-expense paid trip for two to the 1984 Summer Olympics with numerous awards and prizes being awarded. Each participant in the "Run Your Way to the 1984 Olympics" will receive an Olympic style running shirt.

"Run Your Way to the 1984 Olympics" is being sponsored by Natural Light beer, a product of Anheuser-Busch, Inc. Anheuser-Busch is one of the major corporate sponsors of the 1984 Summer Olympics.

To enter "Run Your Way to the 1984 Olympics" send in along with your name, address and shirt size to Natural Light Olympic Fund, P.O. Box 8797, St. Louis, MO 63102. Entry forms are also available at many running stores throughout the country. Additional information on the project is available by contacting Forest H. Harwood, program coordinator, at (314) 982-1723.

Football officials clinic

The Southwestern Athletic Officials Association is sponsoring a clinic for football officials Saturday Aug. 29 at East Alton-Highway River High School from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

The clinic will feature films and discussions officiating to assist all who attend in their officiating in the upcoming season.

J.W. Sanders, an NFL official who started officiating in 1977 will be the guest speaker.

Regional ride sharing drive

A proclamation designating Sept. 17 "Regional Ridesharing Week" will be presented for adoption at Wednesday's meeting of the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council board of directors. Sponsoring of the proclamation will serve as the kickoff event for the Gateway Council's regional ridesharing program, which goes into operation Sept. 17. It will be an expanded version of Gateway's earlier carpool matching activities, which were limited to pilot programs for individual large employers and major employment centers.

AID plans second Operation Snowball

AID Inc. of Collinsville (AID) through information on "Drugs," in cooperation with the Illinois Dangerous Drugs Commission and the Illinois Alcoholism and Drug Dependence Association, presents their second Region IV, Operation Snowball (R4OS). R4OS is a peer leadership and education program which is modeled after the national award winning Illinois Teenage Institute on Substance Abuse.

R4OS is founded on the belief that every human being has the capacity to make sound decisions regarding his or her own life, based on accurate information and an understanding of one's self and motivations.

The purpose of R4OS is to bring together local teenagers and professional resources to share information, correct misinformation and to examine feelings about alcohol, drug misuse and related life problems.

Approximately 70 teenagers and 16 adult staff will attend the October 9, 10 and 11, Region IV Operation Snowball at the Methodist Youth Camp in Nakanda, Ill., eight miles outside of Carbondale.

AID needs help in recruiting youth to attend R4OS and in obtaining scholarships to sponsor youth from Region IV (includes Madison, St. Clair, Bond, Monroe, Clinton, Washington and Randolph Counties). The cost of the program is $60 and includes room, board and transportation out of Collinsville. All others must provide their own transportation.

Monroe counties in Illinois will be eligible to use the Council's free carpool matching service.

A permanent phone-in line, 621-RIDE, has been set up to handle inquiries from commuters interested in forming carpools. Persons in outlying areas may call collect.

Never before has such a service been offered in this region, Gateway officials say.

"The program's theme — 'Ride a magic carpool to work and rise above it all' — contends that savings amass 'like magic' once commuters start carpooling."

The U.S. Department of Transportation estimates that a person with a 40-mile round-trip commute can save $604 a year in fuel costs alone by carpooling with just one other person.

R4OS will be held Friday, October 9, at 3 p.m. through Sunday, Oct. 11, at 2 p.m. and consists of activities, talks and small group discussions about relationships, communication, drug abuse and self image. It is a chance for young people to grow and to be touched in a way that they will be able to reach out to other young people. It is a leadership training program that one would be unlikely to forget.

Brother, sister receive degrees

Miss Tami L. Jateff received a Bachelor of Arts degree and her brother, Bruce A. Jateff, received a Bachelor of Science and Technology degree and a Bachelor of Arts degree in business administration, at the same time, from Illinois State University, Normal, Ill.

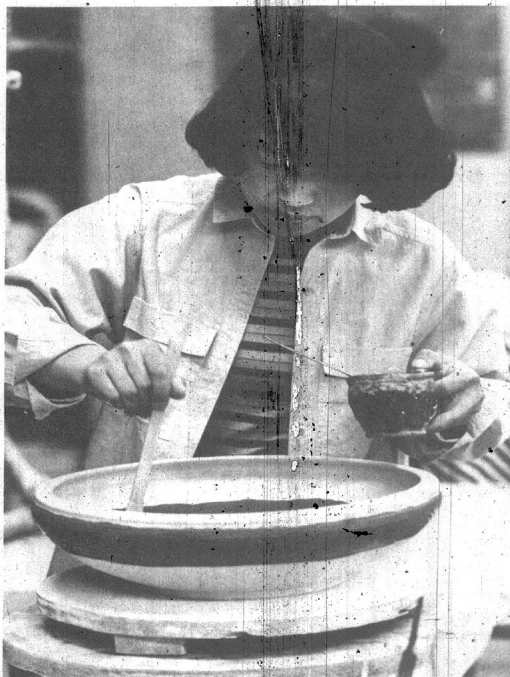

Bruce commented he was not sure how his younger sister caught up with him, until he realized she was earning the extra credits going to summer school.

They are the children of Mrs. Ethel Jateff, 6171 Northland Drive, and the late Boris Barry Jateff.

Bruce graduated with a double major, emphasis in metals technology, industrial relations and production management.

Tami is currently completing an externship with the Madison County Art Council and was on the Dean's list for academic achievement in her senior year.

Her major study is graphic design.

VISITING ARTIST FROM KOREA. Chung Hyun Cho, decorates a bowl thrown during an advanced ceramics class at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Mrs. Cho currently holds the position of chairman of the ceramics department at Ewha Women's University in Seoul, Korea, and is one of her country's leading artists.

Fur trappers to rendezvous

The trappers of Illinois and surrounding states will gather at the Logan County Fairgrounds in Lincoln, Ill., on Sept. 5 and 6. The trapper rendezvous is being sponsored by the Fur Takers of America chapters in Illinois.

Many activities are planned and will include trap setting contests, skinning demonstrations by amateur and professional trappers, a white elephant sale, grubstake drawings, plus many other happenings. Numerous supply dealers will be present for those people wishing to buy trapping supplies.

There is plenty of camping area located on the fairgrounds with numerous electrical hook-ups available. Many motels are also available in the Lincoln area.

Fur Takers of America is a national organization of trappers with local chapters located throughout the country. Illinois currently has eight chapters.

All trappers and interested sportsmen are welcome to attend. For further information, contact the convention chairman, Earl Spain at (618) 456-4279.

Voting delegates for tavern owners

The Madison County Tavern Owners Association has announced its official voting delegates to the Illinois state convention to be held in Quincy, Ill., on Sept. 13, 14 and 15.

Each county association is allowed one voting delegate for every 10 members.

Local delegates are: Julie Goclan of the Greenwood Tavern, Chester Whyers of the 'Luna' Cafe, Bill Woodrome of Packem Inn, Robert Harris of Ingleside, Alfred Watson of Hook's, Charlie Hester of Charlie's, Beverly Fowler of Victors, and Minnie Brown.

Alternate voting delegates are: Fay Schneider of Wayside, Vera Whyers of Lanna, and Al Yount of Al's $20.

Hester is the president of the county association.

New members accepted into the organization at the August meeting were: Arlington Golf Club, World of Sports Lounge, Buck and Jan's Den, Ernie and Annie's.

PARKED CAR LOOTED

While David Reeves of the U. S. Marine Corps in California was visiting last week at the home of his parents at 2517 E. 24th St., his parked auto was looted of a car registration and of 15 cassette tapes valued at $105.

Flatlander and Ralph and Charlie's. Association 'Public Relations Chairman Fowler announced that there would be no September meeting, and that the October meeting will be held at the Long Branch.

Robert Bruce Ezell, 28, of 2215 Cleveland Blvd., was released on $35 cash bond at 5:50 p.m. Saturday after being charged with criminal trespass. He allegedly went to his former apartment on Sinclair Avenue, pushed his way in, and said he left two telephones and came back for them. Ezell then reportedly jerked the telephones from the wall and police were called by a neighbor.

Local delegates are: Julie Goclan of the Greenwood Tavern, Chester Whyers of the 'Luna' Cafe, Bill Woodrome of Packem Inn, Robert Harris of Ingleside, Alfred Watson of Hook's, Charlie Hester of Charlie's, Beverly Fowler of Victors, and Minnie Brown.

Alternate voting delegates are: Fay Schneider of Wayside, Vera Whyers of Lanna, and Al Yount of Al's $20.

"BACK STRAIN"

In our modern society, one of every ten man-hours lost from work is due to spinal disability. Back pain and other back disorders are frequently caused by defects in the alignment or in the mobility of one or more spinal segments... the vertebrae.

In most cases, the trouble starts with an accident, a minor fall or the subjection of the back muscles to an excessive load. Any of these may stretch the supporting muscles or ligaments, causing the misalignment of the vertebrae.

Chiropractic is able to provide relief from back pains by locating and correcting the misalignment that is causing the trouble.

70 custodians at BAC workshop

More than 70 custodians from hospitals, schools and nursing homes attended the first custodial workshop at Belleville Area College last week.

Four companies — Foley Janitorial Supply Co., Moore Chemical Co., Smith Sharp Co. and City Janitor Supply Co. — gave slide presentations followed by hands-on demonstrations of the newest custodial equipment and techniques.

"The custodial staff are important people," said BAC Vice President for Administrative Services and Initiator of the workshop James Hines.

"They are creating the environment students learn in, teachers teach in and administrators work in," Hines added.

Close to 40 members of the BAC custodial staff participated in the workshop. Other institutions represented were Belleville's Memorial Hospital, Belleville East and West high schools and nursing homes including Calvin Johnson and Notre Dame Hills in Belleville and Monroe County in Waterloo. BAC plans to make the workshop an annual event.

More-the-Merrier plans events

Plans for a watermelon feast, a trip to Prairie Du Rocher and a Troy Opera show were reviewed at last week's meeting of the More-the-Merrier Senior Club at the Granite City Township Center.

Lester Thiele, president, conducted the business session, which opened with The Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag, led by Cleveland Cox.

New members welcomed were Gladys Freeman and Wilma Ostresh.

Reports from the previous meeting were read by Marie Stanek, secretary, and Elizabeth McCoy, treasurer. Celebrating birthdays were Augusta Lampe, Georgia Butler, Jessie Chase, Elmond Whitwell and Alberta Ethington.

Club members and guests were invited to attend a watermelon feast on Aug. 27 at the township center. The melons will be furnished by Randall Irwin, it was announced.

An outing to Prairie Du Rocher and the Red Bud area is scheduled Sept. 24, costing $2 for members and $2.50 for non-members, Thiele reported.

Erosion control among topics

About 800 conservation leaders attended the annual meeting of the Association of Illinois Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Springfield last month.

Virginia Smith of Moro, Irvin Helmer of Highland, Melvin Balsters of Bethalto, Walker Bohn of Collinsville and Gene Daiber of Marine represented the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District. The program was held in concurrence with the Illinois Department of Agriculture, Division of Natural Resources summer conference.

District directors and employees of the districts were given an overview of recent budget cuts in the coming year's finances by Assistant Director of Agriculture Jim Rowley. Agriculture Secretary Larry Verries also spoke to the conference about the focus of future department activities in soil and water conservation and the protection of agricultural lands from urban development. Verries remarks included a discussion of the effects of Governor Jim Thompson's executive order on farmland preservation.

State development agencies have nearly completed their policy statements which will insure that state funded projects use as little valuable cropland as possible. Verries also discussed the value of conservation tillage to future erosion control efforts in Illinois.

"Nearly two-thirds of this (eroding) acreage could be easily protected by simply changing our cultivation practices," Verries said.

"We must not forget, it is the farmers responsibility to protect the land, and your responsibility as Soil and Water Conservation District leaders, to show them how."

Other speakers at the conference included: Jim Frank, Illinois Department of Agriculture natural resources superintendent; Warren Fitzgerald, state conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service; and Gib Fricke, the newly appointed ASCS state administrator.

The sweepstakes winners in this years Conservation Farm Family of the year were announced at the conference. The Richard McTucker family from Harry in Pike County, and the Paul McClure family from Newton in Jasper County were winners this year.

Conservation teacher of the year honors went to Joe Collins of Albion, Ill. and Samuel Robb of Pickneyville. Both teachers emphasized a "hands on" approach to environmental education.

Outstanding districts were recognized in the 34th annual Goodyear Conservation Awards program at the conference. This years winners were Brown and Clark County Soil and Water Conservation Districts. The award is sponsored by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company.

An award to the four outstanding district directors was also presented. Pam Henderson of Prairie Farmer Magazine presented this year's awards in the program sponsored by Prairie Farmer. This year's winners include: Roger Dunham of New Salem in Pike County; Eldon Hesterberg of Gifford in Champaign County; Ken Rehn of Kirkland in DeKalb County; and Bill Vaughn of Fairfield in Jefferson County.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts in Illinois and the rest of the nation face many challenges in controlling erosion problems. As demand increases for agricultural products, the threat of erosion can increase as well.

In the near future, Soil and Water Conservation Districts will be administering a voluntary compliance program in each of the state's counties designed to encourage conservation measures on crop and farmland.

The program is required by recent amendments to the Districts Act which allowed districts to be formed in Illinois nearly 45 years ago.

GC Junior Service makes plans for fall

In preparation for the fall season, the Granite City Junior Service executive board met last week in the home of Donna Polivick to discuss several proposed activities.

Glenda Weckman, president, was in charge of the business session and announced the club was contacted twice in the past month for eye-glances.

Planning continued for a soon for the "Breakfast With Santa" project to be sponsored by the club later this year, it was announced.

The purchase of crayons and coloring books for the pediatric ward at St. Elizabeth Medical Center was proposed at the meeting.

It was reported a "couple's night out" at Paddlers twin pool facility was enjoyed by members during the current summer recess.

Among those attending the board meeting were Gail Miosky, Betty Nighossian, Jo Ella Harris, Faith Holsinger, Flora Mae Lensing, Pam Reed and Paula Weaver.

A garage sale on Sept. 19 at a member's home, and for a workshop in connection with the group's 50th anniversary celebration, scheduled Oct. 25.

Workshops also will start

Miss Deborah Z. Palcheff and Donald J. Smith Jr., exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony on June 21 at St. Cyril and Method Eastern Orthodox Church.

Bishop Kyrril of the Toledo Bulgarian Orthodox Diocese officiated at the 4:30 service. Dr. and Mrs. Chris Palcheff, an uncle and aunt of the bride, who also are her godparents, participated in the changing of the crowns, segment of the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Superintendent of Madison Schools and Mrs. John Palcheff, 1545 Third St., Madison. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Smith, 550 First St., Wood River.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal white chiffon gown designed with a fitted bodice featuring a V-neckline accented with Chantilly lace and long sleeves.

Her softly flowing skirt was enhanced with pleated tulle ruffles and lace which was repeated on the cathedral length train.

A Juliet cap secured her long length veil of bridal illusion and she held an arm bouquet of white roses and greenery.

Mrs. Mary Dunahue was matron of honor and the bridesmaids included, Mrs. Donna Davis, sister of the bride, Miss Jackie Adams, Miss Judy Williams, Miss Joyce Tarpo, and Miss Carol Palcheff, both cousins of the bride.

They were gown alike in mauve floral chiffon over tulle interlock dresses, featuring oval necklines, short sleeves and handkerchief hemlines.

The junior bridesmaid, Marci Peters, wore a long white eyelet dress created with a ruffled neckline defined with a deep self fabric ruffle that formed short sleeves. A pink ribbon marked the natural waistline and the skirt terminated with a gathered flounce at the hemline.

Flower girls Tracy and Molly Peters appeared in similar style frocks made with short puff sleeves.

Joey Meador served as the ringbearer and Randy Smith attended his brother as best man.

Joe Pelan, Steve Earhardt, Dan Santani, Melvin Heich, Greg and Rich Tuck, Robbie MacDonald completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the church rehearsal a dinner was served to members of the wedding party at Alexander's Restaurant. Reception was hosted at Croatian Home in Madison, with Mrs. Mary Weimer attending the guest book.

The newlywed couple is residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Texas and Georgia.

A graduate of Madison High School, the bride also graduated from Eastern Illinois University and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She presently is a teacher at Blair and Hays Elementary Schools in Madison.

The groom is a teacher and assistant football coach at Madison High School and was graduated from Wood River-East, Alton High School and SIUE.

Vicent Whittenburg celebrates birthday

Vicent Whittenburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. John (Erin) Whittenburg, celebrated his first birthday at a party held at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Rutledge Sr., of Granite City.

A Raggedy Andy theme decorated the patio for the party and buffet luncheon. The cake was also frosted in the party theme.

Guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Rutledge Sr., Lynn Rutledge, John Rutledge, Lou Ann, Mark and Zeki Holmes, Tim Svoboda, Donna Smallie, Tim McGrath, Mike and Karen Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Zabawa, Mark, Walter, Richard and Robert Zabawa, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker, Lisa and Ernie Walker, Also Mrs. Tony Wiehardt, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Willmore, Rick and Mike Willmore, Angela Rutledge, Ray Rutledge III, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rutledge, Mike and Billy

Family reunion at Wilson Park

A reunion of the Stearns, Hancock and Sexton families was held in Wilson Park, last week with 85 people attending.

Out of town members included Pearl Schuler of Brussels, Ill., Danny and Elaine Lewis and sons, Lynn and Brian of Godfrey, Clyde and Catherine Schuler and Angie of St. Charles, Keith and Jane Skipper and daughters, Jennifer and Christy Jo of West Allen, Mo. Also Glenn and Linda Austin, Barbara Monez, Erymel Camren and Rose Ann Price.

They noted the theme for 1982 will be, "Where The Spirit of The Lord In There Will Be Family Unity."

After the service refreshments were served in the fellowship hall.

OBN Club attends state fair

Ten members of the OBN Club of Granite City combined their August meeting with a two-day trip to the Illinois State Fair in Springfield last week.

The group was entertained by Mrs. Margie Richards, a member who recently moved to Springfield and at whose home the local women were guests.

Participants spent two days at the State Fairgrounds and dinner at the State House Inn. They also were guests at the Fleetwood Restaurant for breakfast.

During a brief business session at the Richards' home, plans were made to hold a bake sale in October, with donations being contributed to the Festival of Giving at Christmastime.

Club members will next meet Sept. 28 at the home of Josephine Burgener, 5404 Maryville Road.

Taking part in the Springfield outing were Larkey Serrano, Ginger Howland, Mary Brothers, Louise Hill and Mrs. Burgener, all from Granite City, and Linda Shackelford, Darlene Frank, Marie Gartner and Margette Sackett, all from Cahokia.

The OBN Club was formed three years ago among former workers at the now-closed Oest Nester Glass plant in East St. Louis.

Women's Circle direct services

The Women's Missionary Circle of Mount Zion General Baptist Church were in charge of special services held at the church, last week.

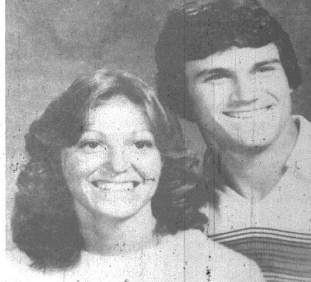

Newly elected officers were installed in a candlelight service. Ten delegates from the church who attended the General Baptist Women's Missionary conference held in Louisville, Ky., this month spoke briefly.

They were Madonna Richmond, Madge Boone, Rose Ann Price, Flo Monroe, Jenny Pirle, Barbara Monez, Charly LeMaster, Betty Warren, Marjorie Austin and Hilda Barnes.

Speeches on the home and foreign missions were presented by Madge Boone, Carolyn LeMaster, Marjorie Austin, Barbara Monez, Erymel Camren and Rose Ann Price.

They noted the theme for 1982 will be, "Where The Spirit of The Lord In There Will Be Family Unity."

After the service refreshments were served in the fellowship hall.

Marilyn Phillips and Michael Sherman

Sherman-Phillips

The engagement of Miss Marilyn Jeanne Phillips and Michael Scott Sherman is being announced by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Phyllis Evans of New, Del. She also is the daughter of the late Donald C. Phillips.

Parents of the prospective groom, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald J. Sherman, reside at 5132 New Kent Rd., Wilmington, Del., and are former Granite City residents.

Miss Phillips graduated from Christina High School in 1977 and from Buhe Hospital School of Nursing in Wilmington, Del., in 1980. She presently is working as a registered nurse at the Wilmington General Hospital.

Her fiancé was graduated from North High School in June 1978 and is currently employed at General Motors in Wilmington.

He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman, 3152 Aubrey Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rhine, 2716 Angela Drive.

The engaged couple is completing plans for a June 19 wedding.

How to read your utility meters

Your meter will have four or five dials. This example shows a five-dial electric meter. Read the dials from left to right. When the arrow is between two numbers, read the lower of the two.

On the first dial above, the arrow is between six and seven. The reading is 6.

Now move to the next dial to the right. (The numbers on this dial run counter-clockwise; that's the way the meter is geared.) The arrow here is between 3 and 4. The reading is 3.

On the third dial above, the arrow is between 5 and 6. The reading is 5.

The fourth dial also runs counter-clockwise. Here the arrow is past 9 and almost to 0. The reading is 9.

On the fifth dial, the arrow is between 3 and 4, so the reading is 3.

The utility meter is a rugged, precision instrument that measures how much electric or gas energy your home is using. Because it's engineered for accuracy, it may look complex. But there's nothing complex about reading your meter. You can do it easily. Here's how:

Your meter reading from left to right on the five dials is 63593. Make a note of the reading. When you read your meter again in, say, a month, it may read 64313, or 720 numbers more. That means you've used 720 kilowatt hours of electricity since you first read the meter.

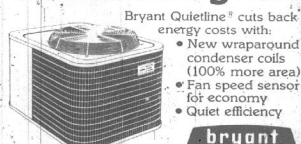

Your gas meter reads the same but has only four dials and measures therms of gas. If your first reading is 6359 and your next reading is 6431, you've used 72 therms of gas since your first reading. Reading your own meter from time to time enables you to check how much energy you're using and helps your family realize how wasteful habits can consume energy needlessly.

Key health role for Dr. Lybarger

With Dr. Jeffrey A. Lybarger, epidemiologic intelligence service officer for South Carolina by the state's Department of Health and Environmental Control, he will be South Carolina's disease detective for the National Center for Disease Control headquartered in Atlanta.

He will work with the DHEC staff in investigating outbreaks of diseases, and then help prevent their spread.

He also will aid DHEC's Bureau of Disease Control in the surveillance of diseases and the coordination of efforts of local agencies in gathering data and investigating and controlling epidemics and outbreaks.

A native of Granite City, Dr. Lybarger received his bachelor's degree in microbiology from Southern Illinois University in 1973. He received his doctor of medicine degree from the SIUC School of Medicine in 1975.

Dr. Lybarger became a commissioned officer in the U.S. Public Health Service in July 1977.

Prior to joining the DHEC at Columbia, S.C., he received training at Cardinal Glennon Hospital in St. Louis and at the Kettering Institute for Environmental Health in Cincinnati. His specialty is occupational medicine.

Dr. Lybarger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Courtland W. Lybarger, live at 1825 Primrose Ave. in Granite City.

Dr. Lybarger graduated from Granite City High School (now South High) in 1969.

Latest state prison now in full use

One of the state's newest prisons attained maximum capacity in mid-August with delivery of 100 new inmates.

Illinois Department of Corrections Director Michael P. Lane said the John A. Graham Correctional Center in Hillboro is now at its capacity of 750 inmates.

A sister institution, the Centralia Correctional Center, attained capacity of 750 on July 23.

"By bringing the Graham Correctional Center to full capacity, the department currently has enough space to adequately house and provide appropriate services to 13,445 inmates," Lane said.

"That is an increase of more than 2,700 prison bed spaces in the last four years. However, all 13 adult institutions in the state are at or near full capacity."

"Even with the additional space now in the planning stages or being developed throughout the statewide corrections system, the state must still find room for more than 2,000 inmates by December 1984 when the prison population is expected to reach more than 16,500.

"Funds must be found to construct three additional prisons if Illinois is to continue to operate safe, secure penal institutions," Lane concluded.

Construction began on the new prison, named after the late State Senator John A. Graham of Barrington, in June 1978. The first inmates were transferred to the facility on Sept. 24, 1980.

A 117-acre tract was purchased from Montgomery County in April 1978 for $240,000 and it cost the state $28 million to construct the facility.

There are 86 acres inside the prison, which is enclosed by two parallel 12-foot-high cyclone fences topped with razor-sharp concertina wire and protected by seven guard towers manned by armed correctional officers.

Fourteen single-room, 50-man housing units — as well as a 30-man segregation unit — are provided for individuals who have problems adjusting to their new environment, and a 50-man receiving unit — are among the 27 buildings inside the prison grounds.

More than 400 people are or will soon be employed at the institution, and the facility will operate on a $12.5 million budget through the 1982 fiscal year, which began July 1.

Medium security institutions like the Graham Correctional Center house all types of prisoners, serving sentences for various crimes.

However, before being transferred to a medium security facility, a prisoner must show an interest in the academic or vocational training available and be well adjusted to prison rules and procedures.

Inmates must also have less than five years of their term remaining and have committed no serious infractions of rules in the five years prior to their transfer.

GUN CHARGES FILED

Ricky L. Cox, 24, of 2118 Deway Ave. and Thomas W. Gammill, 25, Edwardsville, were charged, respectively, last week with possessing and transporting open bottles of beer in an auto at 16th Street and Madison Avenue. Gammill also was charged with having a firearm owner card and with unlawful use of a loaded .32-caliber revolver. Gammill's car was towed to a garage when he was jailed.

Eleven DeMolays, four advisors and three Mother's Club members from James Stuart Chapter attended the four-day Illinois DeMolay convave on the campus of Western Illinois University at Macomb, during the weekend. They were housed in the 20-story Higgins Hall dormitory with meetings, and the grand banquet and grand breakfast at the University Union Building. Six Job's Daughters and three advisors also attended the convave.

During the session Neal A. Mize was installed as 1982 Conclave Coordinator for Hospitality, Jimmy K. Stuart as State Representative and Mrs. Mary K. Stuart as State Chairperson for Illinois State Council of DeMolay Mothers at the state master councilor's breakfast at Sunday morning.

Throughout the business sessions the local chapter received the following trophies: First place for most money raised for Masonic charity; second place for state track and field competition; second place for leadership correspondence; a course completion; a 20 percent membership gain; a plaque for 1980 and a 100 percent ribbon for leadership correspondence.

Robert E. Hethwaite Jr., the chap's winter counselor, led the James Stuart Chapter's delegation with Neal A. Mize, Ronald E. Payne, Jimmy E. Stuart and Fred D. Trebing also serving as delegates. Other chapter members attending were: Mark S. Bowles, John Kamadulski, Ralph E. McKinney, John A. Narvaez, Terry Perrin and Gerald L. Singleton Jr. Advisors, Ellis N. Hackney Jr., Charles A. Meyer, E. Gene Ross and Jimmy K. Stuart.

Mother's Club members, Mrs. Jo Meyer, Mrs. Charlotte Mize and Mrs. Mary Stuart, Job's Daughters in attendance were: Patty Crider, Lisa Jones, Sherry Hancock, Jeanie Holt and Terri Robertson accompanied by Rebecca Slater, Beihel Guardian and Mrs. Rebecca Jones an advisor.

E. Gene Ross, Most Worshipful Senior Grand Warden of the Ancient Free and Accepted Masons for the Grand Lodge of the State of Illinois, was an honored guest for the four days. Ross, also a member of the chapter's advisory board and a Honorary Legion of Honor recipient, served as master of ceremonies for the state master councilor's banquet Saturday night and was a guest performer for the Western band at the Friday night barbeque at Lake Ruth on campus.

Thompson panel urging crackdown on violent crime

Our community is blessed with a relatively low crime rate. But Quad-Cityans are aware that the fear of being robbed, assaulted or killed pervades life in many American cities, shattering the quality of life for millions and endangering those who travel to such areas. This being the case, there is considerable local support for last week's recommendations of the Attorney General's Task Force on Violent Crime. Just as an Illinois governor, the late Otto Kerner, co-chaired the major integration segregation analysis during the Johnson administration, Illinois Gov. James R. Thompson co-chaired the 1981 crime study. The other chairman of the crime task force was the 1977-79 U.S. attorney general, Griffin Bell of Georgia.

The insights of Gov. Thompson were especially helpful in preparing the new report. He not only is the chief executive of one of the most populous states but formerly was a highly successful federal attorney in Illinois. (Gov. Kerner was the best known of those prosecuted.)

Goals of the task force are to reduce crime and reverse what is seen as an exaggeration of defendants' rights granted at the expense of the rights and needs of crime victims and potential victims. While the proposals are controversial—including keeping more wrongdoers behind bars for more time than at present—there is considerable logic behind this get-tough attitude. Prisoners sometimes harm guards or other inmates, but as long as they are incarcerated they lack access to the general public.

Gov. Thompson recognizes that "throwing money at a problem" does not necessarily solve it, but he strongly advocates utilizing the federal logic behind the next four years to help states build prisons.

In fact, the task force leaders see this as the most important element of their plan. Thompson says, "Judges now hesitate to put many criminals in prison because the conditions behind these prison bars are so bad," including the fast-growing factor of overcrowding.

Where would the money come from in a shrinking U.S. budget? The panel members on the panel reply that their proposals would be less costly than the level of federal aid to local law enforcement agencies in 1977 and 1978, and that the cost of not tightening restrictions on crime could be mighty high.

Believes limiting of defendants' rights to seek court review of their cases (after three years have passed) would save "enormous" amounts of time and money, and speed actions in the courts. The painfully-slow judicial process, itself, is one of the reasons why crime has increased so much, authorities assert.

Along with helping finance additional prisons, the task force would continue some aid to local enforcement agencies, intensify drug law enforcement, train more law officers, and improve record-keeping.

Records are vital because the compilation and interpretation of crime data is a key to apprehending him—and to understanding the true nature of the hazard that he may pose to society.

The task force directly attacks well-intentioned but woolly-headed policies that have shrouded most juvenile crime behind a cloud of mystery and ignorance.

Many felons followed a steady progression from minor to serious offenses, and a number of them encountered the justice system at an early age.

The government as they aged and moved from bad to worse.

It is now proposed to keep much better track of law-violating children. After all, some New York street gangs have their youngest members do the worst crimes, on the theory that the older the child, the more likely he is to be used against them if they are later caught in an adult crime.

U.S. Associate Attorney General Rudolph W. Rumsfeld thinks the various proposals, if enacted into law, would restore balance to "a system that has lost its point of crisis by glorifying the rights of those accused of crime."

"Violent crime must be curbed. We cannot afford to indulge in long philosophical discussions about it. If Congress cooperates, we can have a much greater impact on violence than we have had in the past."

The Justice Department already has made a start. It ordered federal prosecutors to coordinate their efforts more closely with state and local prosecutors, seeking especially to identify "career criminals" against whom to focus more enforcement effort.

The panel also is narrowing the ability of many defendants to gain freedom on bail, on procedural errors, on exclusion of illegally obtained evidence, or on the grounds that the state courts had protected their constitutional rights.

Bail could be denied if a defendant is unlikely to appear, or if he is likely to flee even if the appearance bond is very high. Courts could consider evidence obtained illegally if officers acted in "the reasonable, good-faith belief" that their search was constitutional.

The panel agrees with the idea of more coordination of federal, state and local law enforcement agencies, and that the cost of not tightening restrictions on crime could be mighty high.

Gun buyers would report theft or loss of firearms to help make them traceable. Gun buyers would submit to an investigation to determine whether they could legally own a weapon.

A final point in the report also could make a big difference: The task force urges that "guilty" plea "guilt" be "insane" in cases where sanity is being questioned.

Better prison guard pension plan approved

Governor James R. Thompson has signed legislation improving pension benefits for Department of Corrections employees who have daily contact with prison inmates.

"We need no reminder of the dangerous surroundings in which security guards at State correctional facilities must work. The bill provides an incentive for experienced guards to continue their service," the governor said.

It increases retirement benefits for employees, including parole officers, who have daily contact with inmates. It applies only to those who have at least 30 years of service. About 6,000 employees are affected.

Corrections employees would pay 5 percent for retirement annuity and 5 percent for widow or survivor annuity. The current rates of contribution are 3.5 percent and 5 percent.

Employees not covered by Social Security would contribute at the rate of 8.5 percent for retirement annuity and 1 percent for widow or survivor annuity. The current rates for non-covered employees are 7 percent and 1 percent.

Other legislation the governor approved: Amends the Uniform Child Custody Jurisdiction Act to provide jurisdiction unless it conceded to another state or unless type of the parties involved remain in Illinois.

Amends the Probate Act to increase the minimum award to a surviving spouse from $1,000 to $2,000.

The governor's amendment would provide automatic leave for employees who are members of the U.S. armed forces or the Illinois state militia to participate in basic training or advanced training or other annual training.

During the period of leave, the full-time employee will continue to receive regular pay and not lose seniority or any other benefits.

He removed a section of the bill that applied to part-time employees.

BURGULAR GAINS ENTRY TO WOOLWORTH STORE

Eagle Park to get new fire truck Aug. 29

The Eagle Park Fire Protection District will take delivery of its new fire truck at 12 noon Saturday, Aug. 29, it was announced today by Ed Salmond, a district trustee.

The new fire truck is a 1981 GMC truck with a low bid of $53,829. The total amount, which will be paid with a Madison County Community Development grant, also includes the cost of firefighting equipment for six men, an electric hose drier and additional accessories.

Bids submitted by four firms were opened Aug. 14, by Venice Township Supervisor Christ Paschoff at the Venice Township Office and the Tower company was awarded the contract.

To celebrate the arrival of the fire engine to the new fire protection district, community leaders are planning a "fire truck parade" at noon Saturday, Salmond announced.

County, city and township officials have been invited to join Eagle Park residents and area friends at the event, scheduled to take place at the Eagle Park Improvement Association Hall, 100 Hill St.

"A parade, games and lots of good food will help to celebrate the occasion," Salmond said.

The Community Development grant was awarded jointly to the Eagle Park Fire Protection District and the Eagle Park Action Committee after volunteers, headed by Salmond, constructed a firehouse in which to keep the equipment.

News notes

Marshall Smith, legal adviser to the Madison County Board, is recommending formation of a public building commission to construct a new county administrative building. The commission would be empowered to issue bonds.

The radio room in the Madison County Jail is being moved, placing the radio dispatcher in the same room with the sheriff's command to enhance security during night hours.

Under a new Illinois law signed Thursday, convicted home burglars (including first offenders) will face certain prison terms of at least four years. "Residential" is specified as a distinct type of burglary involving felonies reduced to four to 15 years in prison. The new law bars a judge from giving probation or conditional discharge.

A large brick home has been moved to Granite City to be used as a museum. Mounds historic site. Sixty homes are to be relocated by 1986, and eight have been sold by the state to the U.S. Conservation Department plans to build a replica of the Mississippi Indian village that centered around the cultural and commercial center of the Midwest.

Congressman Melvin Price of this district, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, who is advocating landing-based deployment of the MX missile, says he sees "no particular reason" to expect war by Russia but that the U.S. is prepared if one would start. He strongly backs the military build-up being announced by the Reagan administration.

The environmental team of the Upper Mississippi River Basin Commission has issued a report urging an increase in the river's water level, and opposing such proposals as a second Alton replacement lock. It says open water areas of the river are endangered by the present shipping volume.

A state legislator Friday gives a half-percent tax credit to corporations paying the 6 percent income tax, for their investments in new inventories, equipment and property in service after 1981. The credit will double to one percent two years later if a particular firm's work force grew by at least 10 percent the previous year.

State honors Mrs. Hancock
The Consumer and Homemaking Education Program of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service honored Wilma Hancock of Granite City supervising program assistant, at a late summer award banquet on the University of Illinois campus.

CHEP was started in 1971 to help low-income families learn to make better use of their resources: time, energy, money, skills and health. Program assistants work in homes to help them in their homes to teach them consumer topics.

Mrs. Hancock received the Paraprofessional Award from the Illinois Association of Extension Home Economists (IAHE) for her work with a community support project in Madison County.

In this project, she met with 14 mentally ill people who are re-entailing society. Weekly classes were held on computer shopping, meal planning, money management, housekeeping, simple home repairs, basic first-aid and fire safety.

This group of 14 has now "graduated" and many will be able to manage their lives better. After new classes, each year, the CHP program seeks to help thousands of low-income people learn to manage their limited resources to improve the quality of their life.

Where else can you go for state dancing for only $10 and have it tax deductible as a political contribution? All money earned from the dance goes to the County Republican candidates.

We will make a determined effort to recruit good candidates. Please send some recommendations and help us recruit candidates. There is a definite swing toward Republican philosophy nationally. This is reflected on the state level by the large number of early candidates for our Illinois state ticket.

The wonderful victory of President Reagan's economic programs in Congress should help us locally next year. This includes the biggest tax cut in our history.

It should be a tangible benefit to every taxpayer that Republicans have delivered on their campaign promises. If asked, these taxpayers may help our party more locally.

Inflation is down from 13.14 percent under Pres. Carter to about 8 percent now. There has also been a small drop in unemployment.

The candidate search is now in progress for the 1982 election. Filing of petitions takes place early this December for the March 1982 election.

Quality candidates are the most important ingredient required for election success. County offices and the year's salaries are: County treasurer, $25,500; county clerk, $25,500; county auditor, $25,500; County Board member, $5,500; and county superintendent of schools, $39,000.

All Madison County Board candidates must run in 1982 because of redistricting. We will need at least two representatives from each district and one state senator candidate; unfortunately the boundaries are not yet drawn.

We need a strong candidate to challenge Mel Edwards, who has served in Congress, and three or four circuit judge candidates for Madison County.

Ray Sullivan, candidate committee chairman, has called a meeting to interview potential candidates during the week of Aug. 24.

Last year's election success proves that good Republican candidates can win in Madison County.

David Stockman, key economic adviser to Pres. Reagan and director of the Office of Management and Budget, will be the featured speaker at a Springfield fundraising luncheon Sept. 1. The ticket price is $50 per plate.

Anyone wishing to attend can obtain tickets from Mad. Edwardsville. Republican executive committee members or district chairmen.

The annual Republican Women's dinner dance Sept. 27 will be held at the American Legion, St. Louis Road, Edwardsville. The buffet dinner will be from 5 to 8 p.m. Joe James' dance band will play from 8 to 10 p.m.

The annual Macopium County fund dinner will be held Sept. 13 at 6:30 p.m. at the Ellis Club in Carlinville. Tickets are $10 and Secretary of State Jim Edgar and Attorney General Tyrone Faubus will be the featured speakers.

With the opening of colleges and universities still several weeks away, one hundred and five young men and women in the Tri-Cities have already registered at institutions of higher learning throughout the country. This is the largest registration ever completed here so early in the year and before the fall semester begins at least thirty more students are expected to enroll. Last year at this time ninety-five young men and women had enrolled in colleges and universities. Principal W. F. Coolidge of the Community High School said the high school graduates had asked for their credits to enter colleges this year than ever before. He attributed the increase to lack of employment for the young men and women and they are, wisely, continuing their educations rather than doing nothing.

Fire gutted the interior of the Tri-City Grocery Store at 23rd street and Washington avenue Tuesday evening, causing damage estimated from $28,000 to $35,000. All of the contents and equipment in the building were destroyed, but the exterior of the brick building was left unmarked. It was the second major fire in the firm's grocery chain to burn in a year and a half. The other was the Madison store on Third street, which was never reopened.

One of the largest parades ever staged in the Quad-City area will feature opening day events of Granite City's Diamond Jubilee Saturday. More than 110 bands, including bands, floats, marching groups, drill teams and others had been listed in the parade lineup today and parade coordinators said the list is expected to grow through tomorrow. Other opening-day activities of the Jubilee program will include an all-day registration of visitors and a parade at the high school at the YMCA. Ringing of church bells throughout the city at 10 a.m. will formally announce the opening of the Diamond Jubilee celebration.

Arson costly to everyone; all here can help fight it

Comment by Illinois state fire marshal — Arson increases taxes on fire for police and fire services. Arson destroys taxable property, reducing the amount of real estate taxes available from that property. Arson also increases insurance costs.

Professionals know arson is one of the most insidious crimes we must combat. They know it threatens our citizens' lives and property, blights our neighborhoods and drives up the cost of insurance. Up to one of every three dollars paid for homeowners' insurance goes to cover the cost of arson.

Governor James R. Thompson has just announced the Arson Alert program in the battle against arson. Arson is a crime that costs too many lives and too much money.

Under Arson Alert, citizens who provide information leading to an arsonist's arrest or conviction may be eligible for a cash award.

Without citizen concern and involvement, police and fire officials are somewhat limited in what they can do to fight arson. The program includes pamphlets, posters and public service announcements that police and fire departments can obtain through the Department of Law Enforcement.

The statewide effort to fight Illinois' arson problem includes pamphlets, posters and public service announcements that police and fire departments can obtain through the Department of Law Enforcement.

The program is monitored by the Illinois Arson Alert Committee, composed of leaders from police and fire services and the insurance industry.

Jobs sought—training reimbursed

To the Editor: Secretary Agrisani and John J. Smith, superintendent, Illinois Job Service, have directed that all local Job Service offices make every effort to place these PSE participants in gainful employment.

These participants have acquired many skills through the PSE programs and practically all have had specific training in the world of work.

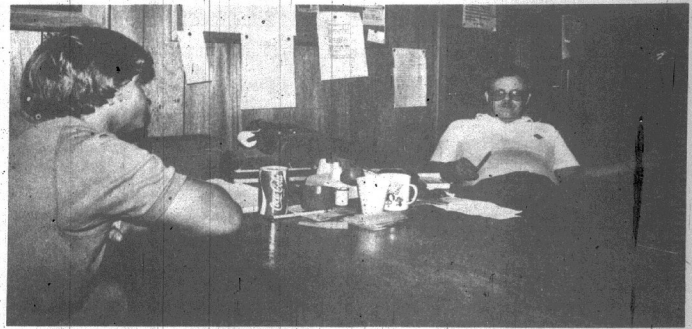

We, therefore, are asking employers to assist us in this re-employment effort. Only through their efforts and cooperation can we succeed in carrying out our designated mission to place these PSE participants in gainful employment. These participants may qualify for on-job training or for special customized training. Employers may be reimbursed, or firms may be eligible under the Targeted Jobs Tax Credit.

Explorer Post 911 discovers high adventure in Missouri

Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Explorer Post 911, sponsored by Jack Miller, DDS, spent a week of repelling, canoeing, swimming, horseback riding, dancing, roller skating and killing copperhead snakes at Swift Explorer Base, located near Farmington, Mo.

Leaders attending with 11 EMS Explorers, were Mrs. Jenia Fox, RN, the post advisor, her husband, William Fox, the Scouting coordinator, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Johnson, parents of one of the Explorers.

The Swift Explorer Base is part of the 5,400 acre S-Bar-F Scout Reservation of the St. Louis Area Council.

The S-Bar-F Scout Reservation also has three Boy Scout Camps located on the property.

Jerry Lewis telethon for MD to be shown Labor Day

KSDK's Cliff St. James and John Auble will co-host the "live" St. Louis segments in the big Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association, it has been announced.

The Telethon will begin at 10:30 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 6, and extend continuously until 5:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 7. Labor Day, on Channel 5, St. James, host of Channel 5's "Midday AM," will be host at the Grand Court Mall of Northwest Plaza, Lindbergh at St. Charles Rock Road. Auble, best known as the co-host, with Dick Ford, of Channel 5's weeknightly "Newsbeat," will host the local segments at the Breckenridge Inn in Frontenac. The quarter-hour local segments will be presented at 15 minutes past each hour.

Lewis will host the 16th annual national star-studded show from Del Webb's Sahara Hotel, Las Vegas, with Ed McMahon again as anchorman. Celebrities participating in the Telethon reads like a "Who's Who" of show business—Sammy Davis Jr., Johnny Cash, Tony Bennett, Wayne Newton, Pearl Bailey, Tony Orlando, Don Rickles, Ben Vereen, Crystal Gayle, Smokey Robinson, Rick Springfield, Bill Cosby, Sugar Ray Leonard, Larry Gatlin and many others.

This is the 10th consecutive year that KSD's is the local outlet. It is one of more than 200 stations, including outlets in Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico and Guam, carrying the show.

Last year's Telethon raised more than $31 million of the MDA's international fight against muscular dystrophy and related disorders. Of this total, a record $748,000 was pledged in the St. Louis viewing area.

The establishment of pledge centers in many outstate areas, a new aspect of the Telethon last year, will again be a feature, thus saving many viewers who wish to make pledges the cost of long distance calls. This year's 13 centers are located in Alton, Belleville, Washington Park, Edwardsville, Mount Vernon, Litchfield and Centralia, Ill., and Farmington, Sullivan, St. Charles, Troy, Franklin County and Crystal City, Mo.

St. Louis Telethon Chairman is John K. Wallace Jr., president of Cupples Products, Inc. Former Cardinal baseball star Stan Musial is the honorary chairman.

The Muscular Dystrophy Association is spending over $1 million this year on its research and patient service programs here. The programs include the Jerry Lewis Neuromuscular Disease Research Center at Washington University Medical Center, individual research projects, free patient and diagnostic clinics, clinical fellowships, and free patient services including summer camps, physical therapy and orthopedic appliances.

Utilities to be mayor's topic

The next dinner meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Council of Mayors will be held Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 8 p.m. in the Empire Room at the Panorama Lanes, 200 St. Belt West, Belleville. Mayor Richard Brauer will be host.

Charles G. Stalon, commissioner from the Illinois Commerce Commission, will be the speaker. He will make a presentation on "Utilities and Tax Rates."

Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler is a member of the executive board. Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols is a member of the council and Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk is an honorary member of its executive board.

Marissa Mayor Arthur Macke is president of the Council of Mayors, Collinsville. Mayor Gene Brombolich is vice-president and Edwardsville Mayor Kenneth Evers is secretary.

Maintenance facility architect is sought

The Madison County Special Service Area 1 Sewer Committee was scheduled to begin interviews with architects to consider who will be hired to build a $150,000 maintenance and office facility.

The committee decided last week to construct such a building with the help of an Environmental Protection Agency grant to replace a borrowed county trailer now serving as a maintenance office. Assurances that such a grant can be made for building purposes has been made, according to Marshall "Zeke" Smith, assistant state's attorney who serves the committee.

The grant also could include funds for five spare generators, ten spare pumps and office and shop furnishings.

Morris Miles, chairman of the committee, said he believes the grant could be secured within the next two months if the committee proceeds immediately in preparing plans, specifications and grant application documents.

According to Smith, the plans will have to be submitted to the EPA for approval before a state grant can be obtained.

The interviews scheduled this week will help the committee select an architect for the job.

STEAL COVERS

Two cast iron drainage cover plates, weighing over 100 pounds and worth $300, were stolen from the 19th Street overpass construction site, it was reported by a foreman at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Strengthen law on drunk, drugged driving in '82

Governor James B. Thompson signed legislation Thursday to strengthen the State's drunk driving law. "Our nine-year-old law has been effective," Thompson said during a signing ceremony. "During this period, law enforcement statistics show a disturbing pattern of drunk drivers who have gotten off because of loopholes in the current state law. "This bill will help plug those loopholes and keep dangerous drunk drivers off our highways and streets." He commended Secretary of State Jim Edgar for his work on Senate Bill 457, as well as the Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission and the departments of Law Enforcement, Public Health and Transportation. Edgar said, "This is the most important life-saving legislation signed into law in many years. We have taken the law on the weakest drunk driving laws in the nation and made it one of the toughest. "The sign sends a loud and clear message to persons who drink too much and drive: Beginning the first of the year, when this law takes effect, Illinois gets tough on drunk drivers. The law will eliminate the current 90-minute waiting period for a suspect to decide whether to submit to a test for alcohol or drugs, or both. It will increase the penalty for first refusal to take the test from a three-month to a six-month suspension of a driver's license. A second refusal during a five-year period would result in a one-year license suspension, rather than the current six-month suspension. In addition to the current breath tests, blood and urine also may be tested to determine intoxication level. The standards for chemical analysis of blood, breath or urine will be set by the Department of Public Health in consultation with the Department of Law Enforcement. Only a physician, registered nurse or qualified person may withdraw blood for the tests. The legislation also provides that the secretary of state "shall revoke the license or permit of a driver for one year after that person has completed a sentence for any of the following crimes: rape, indecent liberties with a child, contributing to the sexual delinquency of a child, indecent solicitation of a child, juvenile pimping, soliciting for a juvenile prostitute, and manufacture, sale or delivery of controlled substances."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING TO BE HELD BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF CITY OF GRANITE CITY TO COMPLY WITH THE TRUTH-IN-TAXATION ACT OF THE STATE OF ILLINOIS (Public Act No. 82-102)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS, THAT

1. The aggregate amount of property taxes exclusive of election costs, extended by the County-Clerk of Madison County, Illinois, upon the levy by the City of Granite City, Illinois, for its fiscal year 1980-1981, based on the assessed valuation of the City of Granite City, Illinois, for the year 1980, was $2,500,000.00.

2. That the amount of the City of Granite City proposed levy, exclusive of election costs, estimated as necessary to be raised by taxation for the City's fiscal year 1981-1982, and based on taxes levied against the assessed valuation of the City for the year 1981, is $2,000,000.00.

3. Said proposed levy of $3,000,000.00 represents an increase of $500,000.00 in the proposed aggregate amount of property taxes to be levied and extended for the fiscal year 1981-1982 against the assessed valuation of the City for the year 1981 as said levy relates to the taxes extended of the levy of the preceding year of 1980.

4. A public hearing regarding said proposed aggregate amount of property tax to be levied and extended for the City's fiscal year 1981-1982, on the assessed valuation of the City for the year 1981, will be held at 7:00 p.m., on the 1st day of September, 1981, in the Granite City Township Hall, located at 2060 Delmar Ave., Granite City, Illinois.

All persons desiring to be heard on any matter regarding the proposed tax levy of the City for the year 1981 may appear and be heard at the said time and place.

DATED this 21st day of August, 1981.

Arson probed at firebombing scene

A flare was thrown through the window of the Busy Bee's Beauty Shop, 2915 Edwardsville Road, at about 2 a.m. Saturday, in an alleged arson attempt.

Tenants in the upstairs apartment heard a noise, looked out and saw flames coming from under their window. A white man with shoulder-length blond hair was seen running south across a gas station lot. The building and beauty shop is owned by Mr. and Mrs. George (Bea) Schaffer, 3670 Highway 111, whose home reportedly damaged by fire on Friday. Details of flames with a fire extinguisher, but were unable to do so.

Granite City police responded to the beauty shop fire and found a red one-gallon gasoline can about eight feet from a broken window in the parking lot. The flames were coming from inside on the southeastern portion of the building where a right window pane of the store room had been broken. The upstairs tenants made an attempt to extinguish the flames with a fire extinguisher, but were unable to do so.

Also found at the scene of the fire was a roll of masking tape, a starter cap from a flare, and a roll of paper towels inside the store room, along with a flare. Damage to the building and contents was estimated at $12,000. An arson investigation is underway.

At 9:46 p.m. Friday, as George and Beatrice Schaffer were returning to their home at 3670 Highway 111, Pontoon Beach, they discovered a fire had been started in their living room.

The two extinguished the fire and called police, who called the Long Lake arson investigation team. Damage at the home was estimated at $3,000. A fire department spokesman would not say how the fire was started, only that it was definitely set.

All Savers Certificate Your Key To Higher Earnings With TAX FREE INTEREST

Why Give It To The I.R.S.?

The All Savers Certificate was recently authorized by Congress as part of the President's Tax Bill. It is effective October 1, 1981. Its main feature is that it provides:

TAX FREE INTEREST

Up to $1000 federal tax exempt earnings on an individual return and up to $2000 tax free on a joint return.

ALL SAVERS ACT CHART

Tax Bracket	Tax Exempt Rate
	10.0	10.5	11.0	11.5	12.0	12.5
20%	12.50	13.12	13.75	14.37	15.00	15.62
25%	13.33	14.00	14.66	15.33	16.00	16.66
30%	14.28	15.00	15.71	16.43	17.14	17.85
35%	15.38	16.15	16.92	17.69	18.46	19.23
40%	16.66	17.50	18.33	19.16	20.00	20.83
45%	18.18	19.10	20.00	20.90	21.82	22.73
50%	20.00	21.00	22.00	23.00	24.00	25.00

These examples from the adjoining All Savers Tax Chart indicate what tax-free interest means to you. Assuming a 11.0% rate, a couple filing a joint return would receive the following taxable equivalent rate.

Tax Bracket	Interest Rate Required To Earn Rate Equal To Tax Exempt Rate
25%	15.33%
40%	19.16%
50%	23.00%

Rate will change monthly, but rate you receive at time you open your All Savers Certificate will be guaranteed for the full year.

The tax free rate will be 70% of the then current rate for 1 year U.S. Treasury Bills. Unlike Money Market Funds your rate is guaranteed for the full year. And unlike Money Market Funds, your money — up to $100,000 is insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

GUARANTEED RATE • FEDERALLY INSURED

If you have any time certificates or Money Markets maturing between now and October First — It will pay you to sign up now — And we'll pay you high interest — 16.5% in a repurchase agreement* during the interim. Then on October First we'll transfer your funds to the Tax Free All Savers Certificate.

GREAT NEWS!

TAX FREE Interest Oct. 1 • 16.5% Interest til Oct. 1

Don't Let Your Life Become

Shattered

Alcohol abuse can tear anyone apart, and for a teenager, it can mean an even bigger problem. It can destroy your health, hopes and future. It can impair your judgement, affect your vision and coordination and greatly affect the way you work in school. It's hard to say "no" to a drink when friends offer, but it's harder still to live with a drinking problem...and doubly hard to stop. Before your life becomes shattered, approach the issue of drinking responsibly!

ALEX IN WONDERLAND

Her career's on the front burner

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — The details are sort of hush-hush, but LAUREN TEWES (pronounced to rhyme with squeeze, thank you) will see her character, Julie McCoy, married on the opening episode of "The Love Boat" this fall.

The wedding ceremony takes place in Sydney, Australia, at the famous St. Mark's Cathedral, with Lauren (Julie) wearing a gown, created for the occasion by Nolan Miller.

The marriage comes at a time when Lauren's career has started to heat up. Film offers have been coming in after her debut in "Eyes of a Stranger," and she's just finished a run in Alhambra, Fla., in the Billie Dawn role of "Born Yesterday," the part that made JUDY HOLLYDAY at star.

Lauren readily admits she packs a lot of determination in her blond-haired frame and insists it started with her desire to retain the family name — one that few could pronounce properly.

Although films seem logical for her future, Lauren added that at 26 years old, there's time yet.

Incidentally, when "The Love Boat" moves into syndication in a few months the episodes will be edited to half an hour from the 60 minutes normally seen, at least that's the word around town.

She may not be 26 anymore — or 56, but who's counting — but PHYLLIS DILLER is not slowing down. Phyllis just returned from a "Diller" smash tour of Australia just in time to tape "A Night at the Improv," a series of syndicated half-hours which she hosts. The show will feature bright young comics from the famous New York and Los Angeles nightclubs, which gave many a name their first stabs at an audience.

A stroll down memory lane: Not much has been heard from MAX BAER of late. The former Jethro on "The Beverly Hillbillies" hates to be reminded of the role and refused the opportunity to revise the part on a CBS reunion show due on the air this fall.

After "Hillbillies" went off the air, Max made a killing as a producer, with "Macon County Line" and "Ode to Billy Joe," then dropped out of sight to relax at his home on Lake Tahoe. He made a pilot called "Culpepper" earlier this year, but it didn't sell to the networks, so he's staying home until further notice.

Similarly, TOM LAUGHLIN vaulted to stardom with his series of "Billy Jack" films, but he has been hiding out in Europe, according to reports.

ED ASNER has gotten himself nominated as the approved candidate for president of the Screen Actors' Guild. Asner has been a vocal member of the union. Should he win, Ed would replace WILLIAM SCHALLERT. KENT MCCORD has been given the nod as first vice president and now faces election on Asner's slate.

SHAUN CASSIDY has been trying to expand his role petite by strutting in "Barefoot in the Park" at a summer theater in Colorado. He's take the role portrayed in the movie by ROBERT REDFORD. Well, at least they're both blond.

And, as a last note, despite persistent rumors that they are no longer a pair, rest assured that BARBRA STREISAND and JON PETERS have been doing the party circuit in Hollywood, ever in love.

WISCONSIN JOINS

Wisconsin, a free state, was admitted to the Union on May 29, 1848, as the 30th state.
